LAKE ONTARIO TOWNS SUFFER FLOOD LOSSES

From Napanee to Port Hope Ontario Areas See Waters Rise

Marooned Persons Rescued By Police

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 12.—Flood waters unleashed by early spring rains flooded a score of towns and villages on the northern shore of Lake Ontario from Napanee to Port Hope today, and caused damage that may reach $200,000 in two towns alone.

Port Hope and Belleville, hardest hit, each estimated its damage at near $100,000 when water and ice poured into cellars and over highways, cutting communications and marooning people in their homes.

A seven-year-old daughter of Ernest Wilson who is suffering from pneumonia was rescued from her home, but is not expected to survive the experience.

TRAIN DERAILED
An Ottawa-Belleville Canadian National freight train was derailed two miles north of Napanee, the engine and seven box cars leaving the tracks.

Conditions in Belleville were serious as firemen and police attempted to rescue hundreds of persons marooned in their homes. They rowed boats right into the houses to pick up the residents.

BRIDGE WASHED AWAY
Unprecedented flood conditions in the Kingston district resulted in the washing away of a steel bridge at Milhaven, twelve miles from Kingston on the Lake Shore Road.

Heavy rains washed out the Canadian Pacific line at Brighton, near Coburg, and traffic was routed over the C.N.R. line from just east of Brighton to Coburg.

Hauptmann's Counsel Sees Fighting Chance If Governor Will Talk With Condon

Associated Press
Trenton, N.J., March 12.—Governor Harold G. Hoffman announced today—the last day on which he can legally reprieve Bruno Richard Hauptmann—that he has no intention now again staying execution, which is set for the week of March 30.

Through his press aide, William S. Conklin, the Governor said his statement of January 17, in which he said there would be no further reprieve, still stood and "I have never indicated any change."

"I have no intention at the present time," he said, "of granting another reprieve."

Social Credit Group Says Aberhart Fails

Local No. 1 at St. Paul, Alberta, Passes Sharp Resolution on Lack of Dividends This Year

Canadian Press
St. Paul, Alta., March 12.—Condemnation of Premier Aberhart for his "miserable failure" to provide for Social Credit establishment this year is contained in a resolution passed by Social Credit group No. 1 in this town. A month ago this same group passed a resolution demanding the recall of the constituency's Legislature member—Mayor J. W. Beaudry, with the allegation he is a "non-Social Credit."

SACUS AT EDMONTON
Edmonton, March 12 (Canadian Press).—Major C. H. Douglas's status with the Alberta Government will be decided definitely tonight by a caucus of Social Credit members of the Legislature. It was declared today. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 9)

SNOWBAGS USED AS BARRICADES IN TOKIO

Among the first pictures of the recent military uprising in Tokyo received in Canada is the above, which shows that the rebels, lacking sand and as they staged their sudden move, filled bags with snow and threw up barricades. Loyal troops also used snowbags in the operations which resulted in the surrender of the insurgents.

SPY FLURRY IN JAPAN CAPITAL NOW REPORTED

BODIES OF FIVE FOUND IN HOME

Police at Osoyoos, B.C., Believe K. J. Mortensen Shot Family and Himself

Canadian Press
Osoyoos, B.C., March 12.—Sudden death ended a struggle between ill-health for K. J. Mortensen, Danish miner, his wife and their three small daughters. The bodies of the five were found in their home here yesterday evening and Sergeant E. Gammon of the British Columbia Police said Mortensen apparently had taken his own life after shooting the other members of his family as they slept. The bodies of the mother and her youngest child, three-year-old Eva, were found in one bed and the bodies of the older sisters, Ann, nine, and Julia, six, were together in another. All had been shot through the head, and evidently died instantly. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

SIR D. CAMPBELL DIES IN LONDON

London, March 12.—General Sir David Campbell, who recently resigned from the governorship of Malta for reasons of ill-health, died here today. Sir David at the Battle of the Marne was wounded by a lance in a scuffle with Uhlans. He was believed to be the only British officer so wounded during the course of the war.

HIRANUMA JOINS JAPAN CABINET

Canadian Press from Havas
Tokyo, March 12.—The Japanese army's influence over Premier Koki Hirota's new government was apparently strengthened by the appointment today by Baron Hiranuma, close friend of Japan's ultra-nationalist generals, to succeed Baron Ikki as chairman of the Privy Council. Military pressure was said to have been behind Baron Ikki's resignation, professedly because of ill-health.

PLANE AND GLIDER UP 34,989 FEET

Associated Press
Moscow, March 12.—Authorities announced today that a Soviet airplane with a glider attached had established a world altitude record for air trains. The train was stated to have gone to a height of 19,500 metres (64,000 feet). It was said also to be the greatest altitude ever attained by a glider. The glider was detached at the maximum altitude and descended independently. The flight was made March 9.

Virtual Ultimatum From France To Germany Calls For Troops To Be Recalled From the Rhineland

New Warning From Germany She Stands Her Ground

Associated Press
Berlin, March 12.—Germany warned the world today that if an attempt is made to force her to renounce sovereign rights—such as the movement of troops to wherever she desires in her own territory—the government will "withdraw its proposals" for peace.

In a public statement, the German Government threatened to "choose honorable isolation" if other governments did not agree "that the only pacification of Europe is built upon the voluntary decision and action of equal European states and peoples."

The official statement said the present remilitarization of the Rhineland is "irrevocable," but that Germany "is ready, if it be deemed expedient, to declare that for the duration of negotiations and on the assumption that the French and Belgian Governments will act analogously, she will effect no change in this situation."

TO MAINTAIN RIGHTS
The statement continues: "Under no circumstances, however, would Germany renounce any sovereign rights, in the conviction that thereby the future pacification of Europe would again rest upon compulsory renunciation and thereby moral discrimination which would then contain the germ of growing disquiet on the hand and, thereby, of latent dissatisfaction on the other hand."

"What the German Government is striving for is not the conclusion (Turn to Page 2, Col. 8)

While Mr. Eden and Lord Halifax represented Britain at the Locarno Conference in London today, it was said Premier Baldwin, being kept fully informed of the proceedings, might enter the negotiations later.

STATEMENT ON CONSCRIPTS

Premier to Tell Commons About German Consul's Call in Canada

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 12.—Prime Minister King expects a complete account of statements of the German consul-general at Montreal with reference to conscripts for the German army from that official. When he receives it he will make a statement in the House of Commons.

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, called attention to the consul's remarks for the second time today and described them as "extraordinary." He said in explaining his first announcement the consul had gone further and intimidated German citizens in Canada who failed to report for military service when they were required would be liable to punishment.

WHAT PROCEEDURE
Mr. Woodsworth wanted to know how a consul could inflict punishment on a person in Canada.

Mr. King said he had asked the German consul for a copy of his statement and had received a telegram stating it was being mailed. It had not yet arrived.

Canadian Press
Montreal, March 12.—Officials of the German consul-general's office here estimate that "possibly 100 persons" will be affected by the decision of the Reich to conscript German citizens living in Canada and Newfoundland for "possible service in the German army."

The announcement "is really nothing new, as it only relates to similar practice existing before the war," said Ludwig Kempf, consul-general in Canada. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

MOVE AGAINST FRUIT PEDLARS

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 12.—The British Columbia Coast Growers' Association will shortly seek amendment to the British Columbia Co-operative Association Act permitting successful prosecution of pedlars and others who obtain vegetables from producers who have already entered into co-operative marketing contracts, it was announced here today.

B. C. Boyes, secretary-treasurer of the association, said today that pedlars send out trucks with different drivers, making it impossible to prove knowledge of notice to each driver and so secure a conviction under the Co-operative Associations Act in its present form.

As German Threat to Withdraw Peace Proposals Comes Authoritative Sources Say Britain May Be Forced to Give Fullest Support to French; Situation as Locarno Conference in London Struggle With Problems Is Described as "Desperately Grave"

Associated Press
London, March 12.—A French "virtual ultimatum" to Germany to demilitarize the Rhineland, a German threat to withdraw peace proposals if other powers support this demand, and a British contention that Great Britain may be forced to support France to the limit rocked an international conference directed toward peace in Europe today.

An authoritative British source described the German threat as "an absolute bombshell" making the "situation now desperately grave."

A high source said the French were hinting that single-handed action against Germany might be necessary if no agreement were reached at the conference.

The British source said they would exert every effort to restrain France, but that, in view of the new German pronouncement, they were swinging to the French attitude that Hitler appeared in the light of a treaty-breaker holding a position comparable to the Kaiser's "scrap of paper" attitude in 1914.

Germany announced Hitler would withdraw his peace proposals and that Germany would isolate herself if the other powers should try to force Germany to cede any of her sovereign rights—such as those of moving troops whenever she chooses in Germany.

DIFFICULTIES OF MEDIATION
It was indicated the British position of mediator between France and Germany had become almost impossible without some gesture of conciliation on the part of Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

The British representatives had been hoping for an indication from Germany of a willingness to allow for a margin of leeway in order to give Britain a talking point in its attempt to soften the stiff French attitude. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

FRENCH-SOVIET PACT RATIFIED

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, March 12.—The French Senate tonight ratified the Franco-Soviet pact of mutual assistance by an overwhelming majority. The treaty already had been ratified by the Chamber of Deputies. The vote in the Senate was 223 to 52.

British M.P.'s Urged To Speed Defences

War Secretary Tells Commons Vulnerable Now to Air Attack

Associated Press
London, March 12.—Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary of War, bluntly warned the House of Commons today that Great Britain was more vulnerable than ever from an attack from the air and faced the risk of becoming embroiled in a European war.

Mr. Duff Cooper moved the adoption of a budget for military appropriations and declared: "We should never proceed under the assumption that in no future conflict on the continent could we be called on by the government of the day to send, at a very short notice, a well-equipped force to take part in modern warfare against the best-equipped forces of the world."

MENACE GROWS
Referring to Napoleon's statement, "Antwerp in the possession of a hostile nation is like a pistol held at the head of Britain," the secretary warned: "The only result of new inventions is that the menace is greater than before because, today, it is a double-barrelled pistol." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

ASTAIRE TURNS DOWN $4,000,000

Associated Press
New York, March 2.—The New York World-Telegram said today that Fred Astaire, song and dance star of the movies, is dissatisfied with a new contract said to provide him with $4,000,000.

R-K-O Studio, The World-Telegram story said, offered Astaire and Ginger Rogers $8,000,000 for eight pictures together. First of Astaire's objections, the story said, is the continued partnership between himself and Miss Rogers.

WATCHES BOX OFFICE
He is quoted as saying this unvaried pairing of their talents will weaken their box office value. He also objects to "constant work, the newspaper said, and" wants from six to eight months off that he might visit his sister Adele, Lady Cavendish, in Ireland.

FROM PLANES

The minister described a recent Soviet manoeuvre in which 1,200 soldiers jumped from airplanes and descended in parachutes as an indication of the rapid strides the world was making in the air form of military combat.

He said Great Britain's army was not "experimenting with such advanced forms of destructive war machinery."

PRICE INQUIRY ON IMPLEMENTS

Commons Committee, Starting Investigation, Urges Delay in Boost in Charges

Ottawa, March 12.—Arrangements were made today by the agricultural committee of the House of Commons to investigate the increase in prices of farm implements put into effect this year by the Canadian manufacturers. The committee also went on record as being "of the opinion" the increase should not be brought into force until the committee had completed its inquiry.

The committee, under the chairmanship of W. G. Weir, Liberal, Macdonald, Man., clashed over the resolution asking that the increase be not put into effect until it had made its report. Conservative members contended this was prejudging the case and George Bouchard, Liberal, Kamouraska, Que., also took view. The remainder of the committee, however, passed the resolution by a show of hands.

COUNSEL NEEDED

When the Canadian-United States trade agreement came into effect, reducing the duties on farm implements from the United States from 25 to 12 1/2 per cent, Canadian implement manufacturers increased their prices in their 1936 price lists. The action was debated in the Commons and the question referred to the committee.

The House has been asked to provide counsel to conduct the inquiry.

Europe Crisis Grows As Powers Confer

Now, with that vital element lacking, the British said, they felt they might be forced to support France to the limit in view of Germany's stubborn threat of "isolation."

BACK TO PARIS

It was stated the French delegation to the present conference of treaty signatories was ready to go back to Paris if no agreement was reached here.

The French were understood to be insisting absolutely on the removal of German troops from the Rhineland.

MAY CLOSE FRONTIER

It was stated they might attempt to close the German frontier in confidence their military and naval strength was so great Hitler eventually would be forced to yield on the Rhineland issue.

British statesmen, conferring with the French, Belgian and Italian, sought to hold a middle course to preserve the peace.

It was understood the French were adamant over the principle involved in tearing up the Locarno Treaty.

The fate of the Saturday session of the League of Nations Council was uncertain as the representatives of the four nations went into session in the "old cabinet room" of the Foreign Office.

TERMS FOR NEGOTIATION

The French delegation was said to have informed the British that 1. France is ready to negotiate with Hitler the minute he moves his troops back from the Rhine.

2. The French are certain that if Hitler is allowed to go unpunished for the Rhineland incident he next will move into Austria and that would mean war for the Little Entente of Romania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

3. The French are sure they could make Germany submit in the end for France today is not only one of the strongest military powers in the world but possesses sufficient financial resources to bring a pressure on Germany which that nation could not survive.

CONFIDENCE VOICED

A French spokesman declared: "I have every confidence in the ultimate issue of the conversations which have been begun."

While willing to negotiate with the Reich, diplomatic sources said, the other Locarno nations—Britain, France, Belgium and Italy—could not do so as long as they were faced with the actual violation of the treaty violation committed by Germany's occupation last Saturday of the Rhineland.

ROAD WORK IS EXPECTED

While the provincial budget speech made no mention of funds for road work outside of ordinary maintenance, it is expected further hard-surfacing of main highways will be done this year. Last year the finance minister used what he has termed a "nest-egg" to surface 300 miles of highway. As yet no indication has been given of what funds may be available this year.

London after the first meeting of representatives of the Locarno pact signatories at Paris Tuesday, failed to result in an agreement, opened with a British cabinet meeting at No. 10 Downing Street.

A plotting of Britain's policy was undertaken after the ministers had met in their regular session yesterday and heard reports in an emergency meeting yesterday evening from Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Viscount Halifax, Lord Privy Seal.

The Prime Minister himself was believed to be playing an important part in the negotiations.

The British policy at today's events began adhering originally closely to the "middle of the road," including attempts to cool French ardor for punishment of Germany or a retreat of the Nazi troops, with insistence that Hitler's proposals deserved at least a hearing.

The cabinet meeting, determining Britain's stand, preceded the private conversations of the Locarno power statesmen this afternoon in the old cabinet room.

With the British and French delegates, Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador in London, represented Italy, and Premier Paul Van Zeeland represented Belgium.

Germany was not represented at the meeting, and was believed in diplomatic circles to be virtually isolated from foreign support—with only the Reich army seen as supporting its actions.

Diplomatic quarters outside the House of Commons were engaged in intense activity as a preliminary also to the meeting of the League of Nations Council, called for Saturday at St. James's Palace, to consider the French and Belgian protests against Germany's unilateral denunciation of the Locarno Pact.

There is no war spirit in Great Britain, according to Canadian Press dispatches. The British are as wide apart as the London Daily Mail and The London Daily Herald agree on appeals for conciliation. "What Europe wants," says The Daily Mail, "is a friendly agreement among the great powers to discuss their difficulties and as far as possible remove them."

"War is not inevitable if good sense and moderation are shown and if British diplomacy refuses to be dragged into coercive measures which can achieve nothing but mischief."

"There is talk," says The Daily Herald, "of a new European war as a possibility. In the name of sanity, why? What issue is worth the death of a single soldier, let alone the incalculable horror of modern war?"

"If we have learned one thing, it is surely that nothing is settled by aiming at nothing is gained but everything lost that is worth the having."

Canadian Press from Havas

London, March 12.—The British Government this evening reported, Havas learned, to have dispatched a message to Berlin officially protesting Germany's denunciation of the Locarno pact.

The protest, according to Havas, was said to have announced Britain's "absolute" condemnation of the treaty violation, and to have demanded whether Germany would consent to measures "softening" the Reich's unilateral act.

The Baldwin cabinet, Havas reported, was said to be awaiting an immediate reply from Berlin to enable negotiations among the Locarno pact signatories here to proceed.

Vancouver Centre Association Urges Provincial Executive Gather

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 12.—Members of the Vancouver Centre Liberal Association yesterday evening adopted a resolution asking for an early meeting of the executive of the British Columbia Liberal Association.

No particular reason was advanced by proponents of the resolution, but it was explained several matters remain unsettled including uncertainty as to the titular head of the provincial association since the death of the late Mary Ellen Smith.

The Vancouver centre organization also adopted a resolution reaffirming its endorsement and support of the government's proposed health insurance bill.

Attorney-General Gordon Sloan told the meeting that "any government that in so short a time has redeemed so many of the pledges of the Liberal Party at its 1932 convention has nothing the apologists for."

STATEMENT ON CONSCRIPTS

He said he did not wish to comment on the statement made by Premier King in the House of Commons yesterday that the Prime Minister would investigate the conscription made public by the statement.

"I think," he said, "it would be better for me to wait until I am officially notified of the Prime Minister's statement and intention."

CENSUS FIGURES

The last census, one official said, showed 39,000 German-born residents in Canada, but of those only 21,000 were German citizens.

Of the latter it would be only those born in 1914, 1915 and 1916 who would be affected by the ruling, which says that "in 1936 all male German-nationals in Canada and Newfoundland."

LEAGUE COUNCIL SESSION SATURDAY

Canadian Press from Havas

London, March 12.—The Council of the League of Nations was called tonight to meet here at 11 a.m. Saturday. Earlier today plans to delay the meeting until Monday had reported.

her knock was unanswered, she entered and found the bodies.

Sgt. Gammon reported police had found a note in the house saying "ill-health" was the cause of the tragedy. The officer said money lay beside the pole, which requested the money be turned over to an Osoyoos milk peddler and a garage in Oliver, B.C., as payment of accounts.

Evidence indicated, according to the sergeant, the mother and youngest child had been killed first. There was no sign of disorder. Gammon said an oil lamp had been lighted. The oil had burned dry, indicating the tragedy had occurred in the early morning. The man had been seen around the house Tuesday afternoon.

SUFFERED FROM HEADACHES

Mortensen was reported to have suffered recently from violent headaches. His wife and one of the children were believed to have been afflicted with a malignant disease.

Mortensen was a diamond driller and settler at the Dividend Mine at Osoyoos, located near the United States boundary directly south of Penticton, B.C.

INQUEST ARRANGED

Dr. N. J. Ball, coroner of Oliver, said an inquest would be held. It was expected the inquest would be adjourned until Friday morning after the coroner's jury had viewed the bodies.

BUDGET PLANS IN ONTARIO

Premier Hepburn Says Province Moving Toward Balanced Figures

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 12.—Premier Hepburn, delivering his second budget address as Provincial Treasurer since the Liberal Party took office in 1934, today told the Ontario Legislature: "We are marching on to a balanced budget and to the pegging and even the reducing of the debt."

Estimating a deficit of $13,496,609.47 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1936, the Premier forecast a surplus of $297,955.55 for the new fiscal year.

"I promise the people of Ontario a real surplus," he said. "I pledge my word as leader of the Liberal Party in the province of Ontario that the programme I now lay before the House will be carried out to the letter."

DEBT REDUCTION

Reduction of $9,962,352.71 in the gross debt during the new fiscal year was promised by the Premier, who said they had never been a reduction in Ontario's gross debt since the dawn of this century.

While Mr. Hepburn did not give the reasons for the debt, which included funded and unfunded debt, he said it had been increased by $14,245,657.26 from April 1, 1935, up to and including February 29 last. Public accounts released before the present session showed the gross debt last March 31 was $474,355,948.08.

Mr. Hepburn placed the funded debt as of February 29 last at $293,800,514, up $8,495,015 from last March.

RELIEF COSTS

Revenue in the fiscal year now ending exceeded expenditure by $6,867,035.98 in the fiscal year, Mr. Hepburn estimated. In every other province but Prince Edward Island, he said, the provincial treasurer who produced such a statement would have claimed a surplus on ordinary account, but the Ontario Government countered that with consideration of expenditure on relief.

Costs of unemployment direct relief were cut to $12,600,000, compared with a spent and estimated total of $22,268,948.08 for the fiscal year now ending, based on ten months actual and two months estimated. A year ago relief was estimated at $15,000,000.

INCOME TAX REVENUE

A new source of revenue in the coming year, the provincial income tax, was estimated by the Premier to produce $6,000,000.

The present deficit of $13,496,609.47 compares with $14,006,346.81 forecast a year ago.

REVENUE ESTIMATED

Gross ordinary revenue for the coming fiscal year was estimated by the Premier at $86,415,649.28 and gross ordinary expenditure at $85,817,653.64, including the relief estimate, shown for the second successive year in ordinary account.

Ordinary expenditure during the last twelve months was placed at $92,310,684.90, again including relief costs, and ordinary revenue at $79,014,075.83.

Social Credit Group Says Aberhart Fails

A cable designed to force the Social Credit founder to say definitely whether he intends to come from London to Alberta under his contract as "principal reconstruction adviser" to the government or whether he intends to retire from that contract would be sent by Premier Aberhart, it was believed.

The Premier at the same time divulged that he had received from the Australian Social Credit League a cablegram advising him "whatever you do, don't break with Douglas." The Premier had no comment to offer on this message.

British Debating League Position

Bishop of London Says
Britain Should Not Police
Europe; Lord Noel-Buxton
Defends League

Canadian Press from Havas
London, March 12.—Right Rev. A. P. Wainwright, Bishop of London, criticized the government's pro-League of Nations policy in the House of Lords yesterday, protesting Great Britain had played the part of Europe's policeman long enough.

Baron Noel-Buxton, Labor, immediately rose to defend the League. He cited numerous instances in which League intervention had prevented international disputes from degenerating into armed conflicts. It would be impolitic to reject a partially successful system merely because it had not attained perfection, the Labor peer argued.

Cambridge, Eng., March 12.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, who played a major role in drafting the Locarno Pact, assailed Germany's renunciation of the pact as an "act of brutal force" before the Cambridge University Conservative Association yesterday.

"Once again we are asking ourselves," Sir Austen declared, "if any treaty made with Germany is more than a scrap of paper."

Sir Austen told his audience he spoke as passionately as he could "with my memory quivering at this moment with events which led up to the Great War."

He declared he was "impressed by the similarity of Germany's policy today to the policy which rendered the Great War inevitable."

VIEWS DIFFER ON LABOR GAZETTE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 12.—Publication of the Labor Gazette is a waste of money in the opinion of Sam Jacobs, Liberal, Carleton Place, Ontario. He told the House of Commons so yesterday when Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, sought approval for the estimate of $30,000 to cover the cost of printing the monthly magazine which the Labor Department has issued for many years.

"I don't know of any person who reads it," said Mr. Jacobs.

"Here is one here," said A. A. Heaps, C.C.F., Winnipeg, North. "I suppose I have to admit my honorable friend is a person," said Mr. Jacobs, "but I doubt if the government needs to contribute $30,000 a year to his education."

J. S. Woodworth, C.C.F., Winnipeg, North Centre, and Angus McInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, came to the defense of the Gazette, but the item had not passed when the House adjourned.

To Nationalize Munitions Plants

Associated Press
Washington, March 12.—Government ownership and operation of munitions plants and naval ship-building yards will be recommended by the Senate munitions committee in one of four reports it is now preparing on its two-year inquiry into the causes of war.

A majority of the committee members said yesterday they would vote for a recommendation to nationalize the industries which produce the primary supplies for the army and navy.

SOCIAL PLANS ARE PROPOSED

Harrington, Nova Scotia,
Suggests Britain Amend
Canada's Constitution

Canadian Press
Halifax, March 12.—A move that would bring Nova Scotia into the Dominion's social planning was suggested yesterday evening, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Conservative opposition leader, proposed a programme of social legislation for the Dominion to be obtained through amendment of the British North America Act.

Mr. Harrington, who recently resigned the chairmanship of Canada's Employment and Social Insurance Commission, declared that instead of tampering with a general procedure for amending the Canadian constitution, the province should agree to a specific amendment through Westminster if one is required to permit the Dominion government to engage in and at once set up the machinery necessary for such a full social programme.

Suggesting maternity benefits, unemployment insurance, health insurance, accident insurance, widows' pensions, old-age pensions and invalidity pensions, he said the Dominion government should adopt a complete programme and have it uniform throughout Canada.

Ottawa, March 12.—Proposal of Conservative leader, Harrington, Nova Scotia, for amendment of the British North America Act through the United Kingdom Parliament caused interest among political observers here today.

The Nova Scotia suggestion that powers to pass such legislation should be obtained by a specific amendment to Canada's constitution through Westminster was in line with the reported attitude of Maritime delegates at the recent Dominion-provincial discussions here on the amendment question.

While most provinces expressed agreement with the suggestion that Canada should seek power to amend its own constitution, the Maritimers were reported generally opposed to such a course.

Proposal of Gordon S. Harrington, Nova Scotia Conservative leader, that the B.N.A. Act should be amended through the British Parliament, aroused interest in Victoria today and drew comment from Attorney-General Gordon Sloan who recently attended the Ottawa conference on constitutional amendment.

Mr. Sloan said: "The method of amending the B.N.A. Act proposed by Mr. Harrington is the one that has been in operation since 1867 and seven amendments have been made pursuant thereto, but it is a matter of note that on only one occasion were the provinces consulted about the proposed amendments."

"Mr. Harrington's suggestion to continue the old system is therefore a grave matter, involving as it does a serious threat to provincial autonomy."

"It is also a matter of regret that the Conservative leader in Nova Scotia would appear to be of the opinion the Canadian people cannot be trusted with the responsibility of enacting and amending a Canadian constitution in Canada."

TOURISTS TO GET $100 MARGIN

Budget Soon to Be Brought Before Commons Is Expected to Allow Each Traveler Returning From U.S. to Bring in Goods to That Amount

Ottawa, March 12.—The government will, it is expected, bring down legislation providing for exemption of goods purchased by Canadian tourists in the United States up to $100, at the time the budget is introduced.

When the Canada-United States agreement was negotiated, Canada gave an undertaking that such exemption would be made, and the government stated legislation would be introduced to that end. While no definite time for its introduction has been announced, it is expected with the annual statement of the Finance Minister when that is made.

Approval of the trade agreement by the House of Commons Tuesday evening did not affect the $100 exemption. It was not part of the agreement, and special legislation will be required to make it effective.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 12.—The Tariff Board yesterday dealt with two applications, one dealing with a request for upward revision of duties on sporting equipment, the other for free entry of photographic equipment when used by professional photographers. The first was opposed strenuously, the second had no opposition.

For the professional photographers A. E. Maclean, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Prince, P.E.I., presented the case, the request having originated in the Maritime Provinces. It was supported by C. H. Cunningham of Hamilton, secretary of the Ontario Society of Professional Photographers.

Free entry for all manner of photographic equipment was asked, but difficulties arose when it was recalled that amateurs used similar equipment. This might be overcome by creation of some drawback items, suggested Chairman George H. Redgeck.

WOULD HAVE CITY SELL GAS

Vancouver Alderman's Proposal Backed By Offer of Cheap Motor Fuel

Vancouver, March 12.—C. C. Labrie, former Vancouver purchasing agent for the Canadian National Railways, is prepared to supply Vancouver with gasoline at a price of seven cents a gallon exclusive of customs duty if the city is granted the power to retail the product. He so informed the civic finance committee yesterday.

Mr. Labrie, who appeared before the committee at the request of Alderman Warner Loat, chief sponsor for the charter amendment which would grant such a price would be possible if he was given a three to four-year contract to purchase gasoline for the city in cargo quantities. He would also provide storage, he said.

If similar undertaking could be arranged to cover the entire province, Mr. Labrie said, he would be prepared to supply the product at six cents a gallon.

Mr. Labrie also made a second proposal under which he would bring sufficient gasoline into Vancouver, under a three-year contract, to provide small quantities for civic use at a price of five cents under the retail cost now charged in the city.

Social Credit Gap Unbridged

C. H. Douglas in London Still

Canadian Press
London, March 12.—"They are perfectly willing to allow me to build the automobile so long as they control all the gasoline," remarked Major C. H. Douglas today when he discussed with the Alberta Social Credit government, which continued his contract as Social Credit adviser after he had been engaged by the United Farmers.

Major Douglas's comment concerned the latest cable from Premier William Abernethy of Alberta, who has been endeavoring to get Major Douglas to take up his position. Major Douglas has intimated he would resign the post because other advice had been taken. The position remained exactly as it was before, Major Douglas said today.

Canadian Press
Calgary, March 12.—Total number of smallpox cases since outbreak of the disease in Calgary three weeks ago rose to fifteen when two more were reported yesterday evening. All fifteen cases, except that of the girl who died Sunday, were of the mildest type.

Dr. W. H. Hill, city health officer, said all cases were progressing favorably.

COAL REPORT BEFORE HOUSE

Commons Studies Findings
of F. A. McGregor on 1932-
33 Inquiry

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 12.—A story of an anthracite coal distribution in Canada was laid before Parliament yesterday afternoon in the report of F. A. McGregor, registrar under the Combines Investigation Act, which formed the basis for charges brought by the Quebec Government against leading importers who subsequently were convicted of combining to lessen competition. It was tabled in the House by Labor Minister Rogers.

Tabling of the report was consistently refused by the last government although it was made public to a great extent in the two trials and two appeals which preceded payment of heavy fines by coal companies involved.

The inquiry was instituted by the then Minister of Mines, Hon. Wesley Gordon, in 1932, and the report was completed in April, 1933. Its publication is of particular interest in view of the government's announced intention of further inquiry into "representations which continue to be made respecting monopolistic control of the import and distribution of anthracite coal."

The findings in the report as having "knowingly assisted" in the formation or operation of a combine were the Canadian Import Company of Montreal, headed by Senator Lorne Webster, the P. P. Weaver Coal Company, Hart and Adair Coal Company, and the Scotch Anthracite Coal Company, subsidiary of a firm in Scotland.

LESS COMPETITION
The registrar, after an exhaustive summary of evidence covering cooperative activities between the Welsh exporters and the Canadian importers designed to control prices and movement of the bulk of Old Country anthracite brought into Canada, stated:

"When the evidence on the activities of this combination of Montreal coal importers is reviewed the conclusion appears to be inescapable that their arrangements and agreements have been designed to effect and have effected a lessening of competition which is against the public interest."

It is my opinion the evidence obtained in this inquiry disclosed that in connection with the importation and wholesale distribution of Welsh and Scotch anthracite coal in Canada, a combination has operated, and if its control continues is likely further to operate to the detriment or against the interests of the public.

In addition, Mongeau and Robert Limited (Montreal), have participated in certain agreements which have unduly lessened competition, as indicated in the report, and in these respects have acted in contravention of the statute.

DISTRIBUTION OF COKE
"It is my further opinion the companies named, together with the Montreal Coal and Manufacturing Company Limited and the Elias Rogers Company Limited, have been parties to an agreement relating to the importation and distribution of coke as described in section 12 of this report, and in this respect have been, for the reasons therein stated, parties to a related combine which has operated to the detriment of the public."

SINGER SUES CAFETERIAS

Canadian Press
New York, March 12.—Giovanni Martinielli, describing himself as "a prominent operatic tenor, widely known as such throughout the United States of America and the entire world," is suing Wil-Low Cafeterias Inc. for $20,000, charging "a slur and a blemish upon the public character and reputation of the plaintiff."

The opera tenor alleged the cafeteria corporation, in an advertisement last January 16, claimed he recommended certain food.

The advertisement, Martinielli's suit contends, represented him "to be a person who would seek notoriety by such means."

School Figures Now Are Bonded

The City School Board learned from its finance committee yesterday evening that all employees of the board in city schools, handling public money, had been bonded.

Regulations governing the collection of fees, and the issuance of receipts were outlined and other steps taken to ensure the safety of the board's money were detailed.

The board had no real cause for complaint over the method in which money had been handled in the past, but felt it advisable to bring in a standardized and regular system.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee stated. Expenditures for the year to date amounted to $97,583.87, against $93,527.01 for the same period in 1935.

Another section of the finance committee report showed. A boost of $2,800 in teachers' salaries and $1,200 in repairs to building and grounds were the chief contributing factors to the increase.

WILL DEVELOP BANK STREET

Ground improvements at Bank Street school were presaged at yesterday evening's meeting of the City School Board when that body accepted the recommendation of the building and grounds committee calling for tenders for the demolition of an old dwelling at 1614 Fell Street.

The structure will be torn down and will give the school 255 feet frontage on Fell Street and pave the way for further playground extensions.

On the same committee's recommendation the board agreed to pay half the cost of a fence between the High School grounds and 1121 Caladonia Avenue and gave the contract for light leads at Girls' Central School to the Cox Electrical Company, whose bid for the work was $131.30.

SEES CANADA IN WAR PERIL

Sir Robert Falconer Says
Dominion Could Not Keep Out of European Conflict

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 12.—Canada, because of her dependency on world markets and because she is desirable booty for any aggressive nation, cannot remain aloof from any European conflict, Sir Robert Falconer, former president of the University of Toronto, told the Women's Canadian Club here yesterday.

Even if Canada should join with the United States in the hope of remaining out of European troubles, there was no guarantee the United States could or would remain isolated from difficulties in the rest of the world, Sir Robert said. Canada's most possible hope for safety lay in her support of the League of Nations and Great Britain.

"What are we going to do?" he asked. "There are those who favor a policy of isolation, who say, do nothing at all. But you cannot sit still. Do you think if Japan wanted to come into British Columbia they could not do so? Do you think we are such a poor country that we are not worth looking at? We are one of the richest countries in the world and we have only 11,000,000 of people."

Shows How to Prune Roses

The garden and general care of roses was demonstrated to a gathering of about 100 gardeners in Empress Hotel garden by Fred Saunders, head gardener yesterday afternoon.

Pointing out that quality not quantity was most desirable, Mr. Saunders showed the best methods of cutting out wood to produce the largest roses. In his demonstrations he paid particular attention to the American pillar varieties.

The gardeners were also taken on a tour of the grounds, and following his talk, Mr. Saunders answered many questions. The demonstration was under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society and through the courtesy of the Empress Hotel management.

THE B.C. BUDGET

HON. JOHN HART CANDIDLY REMINDS us that whatever satisfaction may be derived from his budget statement of ordinary receipts and expenditures must be subjected to the reservation that the burden of unemployment relief is responsible largely for an increase of more than $9,600,000 in the gross provincial debt, while the net increase has been some $7,900,000. There also is a heavy shortage of sinking fund requirements which by last November had reached more than $7,575,000. The most imperative problem, however, is that of unemployment relief and the province can not continue to run into debt for this purpose. The gross debt of the province is now just under $180,000,000, and the net debt of $145,851,000. A considerable part of this is productive, but there is an irreducible minimum of liability which no Finance Minister can contemplate with equanimity, no matter how encouraging may be the current revenue situation.

The receipts on ordinary account exceeded the Minister's estimates by $1,768,000, and the Minister concludes from this that economic conditions throughout the province are gradually improving. He anticipates a further growth next year, and provides for an increase of expenditure of more than $1,800,000 for 1936-37, partly for salary increases and department services. This provision is likely to draw criticism from some quarters on the ground that there are other requirements more immediately pressing just now to which any surplus of revenue over ordinary expenditure might be devoted.

Apart from the perennial demand for reduced taxation, the immediate financial needs of the municipalities are even more urgent than those of the province. It is true that substantial aid has been provided for the municipalities out of the increased grant from Ottawa, and that further assistance is promised at the next session of the Legislature, but the prospect of another advance in municipal taxation exists at this very moment, which means an increase in property reversion and a corresponding reduction in municipal revenue. Victoria's situation, of course, is extremely emergent, and calls for early remedies.

While no taxation changes are forecast, the Minister pointed to the likelihood of ultimate readjustments in consequence of the proposals arising from the Dominion-provincial conference. These involve fresh lines of demarcation between Dominion and provincial taxation within the province, and the allocation to the provincial government of new sources of revenue, as well as the right of the province to collect certain taxes now being imposed but concerning the constitutionality of which there is some doubt. All this, however, must be authorized under amendments to the British North America Act, now under consideration at Ottawa, and few of the matters under review are yet within the limits of practical policy. Nor is the subject of debt refunding a matter for present action. It, too, must await the determination of Dominion policy in respect of the relations between the federal and provincial governments.

Mr. Hart's budget statement, as usual, was concisely, plainly and conservatively presented. It did not attempt to minimize the financial difficulties with which the province is beset, the chief burden of which arises from the exigencies of the unemployment situation, but nevertheless it shows that if this particular problem could be alleviated through national co-operation, British Columbia would quickly be restored to a comfortable position as far as provincial finances are concerned.

KING MAKES NEWS

ALTHOUGH THE TENSE INTERNATIONAL situation in Europe has had pride of place in the newspaper headlines during the last few days, we can not be sure that King Edward yesterday did not arouse an even greater measure of interest throughout the world by his announcement that he may have a royal consort. He did not intimate, of course, that he had any immediate prospect of changing the state to which he has tenaciously adhered up to this time, but proposed to Parliament that in its revision of the civil list necessitated by the change of sovereignty the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account.

This announcement will start no end of speculation. The list of eligibles, so frequently reviewed from time to time, will be revived in the press and over the tea table, subject, of course, to the changes incidental to the march of events. Connoisseurs in royal marriages and authorities of social registers will renew their invariable inventories which will cover all the existing and defunct royal houses of Europe, but it is admitted that the list is not promising in comparison with the many plump prospects which lay before Queen Victoria when she energetically engaged, in her favorite recreation of royal match-making, indeed, as far as royalty is concerned, it seems to be confined to Scandinavia and Holland.

There is good reason to presume, however, that King Edward will follow his own inclination if he should wed, and there also is reason to expect that he will take a certain amount of pleasure in shattering a few ancient precedents in whatever matrimonial interests he may develop, if any. He shattered one when he ascended the throne as a bachelor King.

THE "BEST TYPE"

OUR MORNING CONTEMPORARY proposes that legislative sessional indemnities should be abolished on the ground that they deter the best type of people from offering themselves for public service. This would imply that only persons of reasonable incomes could afford to become candidates for the provincial Legislature, and the inference is that, in the opinion of The Colonist, only in that class is the best type of public representative to be found. Since the vast majority of the people are within the other territory we must conclude that good citizenship, ability, honesty and public spirit, in The Colonist's estimation, increase with worldly affluence and are the exclusive possession of a relatively small minority.

It is hardly necessary to say that the record runs entirely the other way, and that many public men in this province and elsewhere, including some, we recall, to whom The Colonist gave its unreserved support, would have been unable to serve in Parliament or Legislature if they had received no compensation for their services.

Incidentally, we can not follow the contention that if the indemnities were abolished the "best type" of person would offer himself or herself for nomination for the Legislature. What is to prevent that type from doing so now? In what way are the indemnities barriers to the zeal of the more affluent citizens for public representative service? Our contemporary is welcome to its strange philosophy, but to be consistent it ought to advocate the limitation of the franchise to electors on the basis of material income.

THE LAST THOUSAND FEET

THE CABLES TELL OF THE ASSEMBLING at Darjeeling of the members of the Rutledge expedition and of their purpose to climb Everest, highest mountain in the world, which has so far defied conquest by man. The party will make its assault between May 20 and June 10.

Previous attempts to climb Everest were made in 1921, 1922, 1924 and 1933. The world probably best remembers the 1924 attempt, as it was during that effort that George Mallory and Andrew Irvine lost their lives so tragically when almost in sight of their goal. Mallory's ice-axe was found 2,000 feet from the summit by Mr. E. E. Shipton and Mr. F. S. Smythe when, they, as members of the 1933 party, made 28,100 feet, the highest point yet reached by man, and only 1,000 feet from the summit.

Mr. Shipton, who is one of the greatest climbers of the day, is a member of this year's expedition. His life's ambition is to make that last 1,000 feet, the margin of his failure to conquer three years ago. The leader of the present party is Mr. Hugh Rutledge, the fifty-one-year-old mountaineer who led the 1933 expedition so near to triumph. Another in the party is Mr. P. Wyn Harris, conqueror of Mount Kenya.

The final stage of the climb will be from the highest camp at 27,800 feet, which is only 1,200 feet from the summit. Those tackling the summit will have fifteen hours of daylight in which to reach the top and make their way back to camp. It would be much too cold to remain on the top for any length of time. Night there would mean certain death. For those who make the final hazardous ascent, there will be just a lamp burning to guide them back to the camp. Everything humanly possible has been done to bring success this time. The members of the party are well experienced and will be aided by the facilities of modern science. Precautions have been taken against latent or threatening infection, newly-designed oxygen apparatus is being carried, with special tents and suits to withstand the rigors of the cold altitudes, and carefully chosen foods. A wireless transmitter will be set up at 25,700 feet, the highest transmitter ever established.

Nearly two years' preparation has gone into the present expedition—all to enable two or more members of the party to make that last 1,000 feet, to give them a few minutes on the summit of the world, untroubled by man. The questions "Why?" and "Of what use?" will be certain to be asked many times as the efforts of this expedition are reported during the coming weeks. But these questions will not be asked by those who have experienced the elation of the climber, nor by those souls of a kindred courage who can understand.

WHILE CANADIAN WHEAT PILES UP

The Chicago Tribune

Germany now grows nearly all the wheat it eats. This result has been achieved by eating less bread and growing more wheat at home. In 1929 Germany imported nearly 40 per cent of the wheat it consumed. In 1934 the imports had been reduced to about 10 per cent. German soil and climate are not particularly well adapted to wheat culture. In order to bring about the very substantial increase in domestic production which has taken place the government has been obliged to grant large subsidies to wheat farmers and at the same time to restrict imports. In consequence, bread is more costly than it need be.

LET THIS SLEEPING DOG LIE

The Vancouver Province

Not to confer present enfranchisement on Orientals is not to be thought of. To adopt a policy of absolute exclusion is to slap friendly nations in the face and to invite bitter resentment in a slayer empire state. That, too, is not to be thought of. In a special class there are native-born Canadians of Oriental blood. There are many thousands of them in Vancouver and adjacent communities, educated in our schools, drilled in our language, our history and customs. They pay taxes, but are without the direct representation accorded to other citizens born in Canada. Some day an equitable dealing with the question of these young people will have to be carefully considered. But there is no obligation to settle the matter of votes for Oriental immigrants at the same time. Our native-born sons and daughters of Asiatic blood are in quite a different category. Time alone can determine the measure of citizenship Canada can afford to extend to Orientals. Meanwhile the Orientals who are with us suffer no injustice from a denial of the franchise. They have all the other rights of citizenship that any of us enjoy: the same protection; the same freedom to pursue the occupations of their choice. The Oriental shows no disposition to awaken this sleeping dog. In that respect he shows a sound philosophy which would do no harm in the House of Commons.

Across The Bay

The budget is safely down—the occasion is very cheerful—Mr. Hart is masterful and elegant—the Premier is pleased—and the members a little dazed.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IT'S DOWN

THE BUDGET was brought down in the Legislature Wednesday. In the experienced and skillful hands of Finance Minister Hart, it was brought down without accident and without any notable thud. For, to tell the truth, it was an extremely light budget in its content of news, and even Mr. Hart didn't try to make it sound very staggering.

Budget day is supposed to be a solemn and moving occasion with us here. Everyone listens solemnly and with a good pretence of understanding, but actually not more than one or two private members know what the budget means until they have read the carefully mulled-over and double-checked versions in the newspapers. Before the speech has gone five minutes, the average legislator is swamped by such a sea of figures that even the pretence of understanding disappears. But so long as Mr. Hart understands, that doesn't matter much.

Mr. Hart understands all right. He is a superb white-crowned figure, garbed in the short, double-breasted black coat and grey trousers which used to be confined to the treasury benches of Ottawa, but which have spread here of late, as civilization rolls (along with federal loans) beyond the Rockies. It is Mr. Hart's tenth budget in these premises and he tosses it off with ease, speaking quietly, without ornament, as a general manager might report to a board of directors.

IRISH BOY

HE IS A superb and elegant figure now, a financier among financiers, one of the ablest financial treasurers in the country, but you can still detect attractive and human traces of the poor Irish boy who came out to the new land long ago. He has the Irish face and the Irish wit and the remnants of a rich Irish brogue. He says we are going to spend some "twenty-four" millions of dollars. He wishes to "imphasize" certain points and hasn't "annie" doubts about the future. This gives the budget, a pretty dull article at best and this time more drab than ever, a certain human touch. It is this touch which makes Mr. Hart irresistible, even to his enemies.

For one thing, and perhaps one thing only, the budget is remarkable. It is delivered almost extemporaneously. Prepared copies, as usual, have been given out, but Mr. Hart, with only a sheet of estimates in his hand, makes up his speech as he goes along, hurling figures at the House until it is dizzy—an unheard-of performance, showing an uncanny grasp of detail. Remember, this is Mr. Hart's profession. He is a financier in the act of financing.

CREDITORS

MEN OF HIS own profession have come to watch him tossing his statistics about as a juggler tosses rubber balls. Leading bankers are on hand, as are the chief creditors of the province's chief creditors, who are anxious to see how things stand with their large debtor. They come like betters listening to the reading of the will and they listen with grim poker faces.

But Mr. Hart for his part is cheerful in the extreme. He has a current surplus this year of $1,700,000 and expects another one of $1,199,000 next year. Were it not for the fact that this includes nothing for unemployment, nothing for the New Westminster Bridge, nothing for roads, little for sinking funds, our budget would be balanced entirely. In fact, it can be truly said that if you leave off some eight or ten millions of expenditure the balance is already complete.

AHEAD

WHAT MR. HART thinks about that, we have no way of knowing. He

BURN KIRK'S COAL

"Does Last Longer"

1239 BROAD ST. G 3241

is facing a critical year—a year in which he must find some way of stopping this huge drain; must face the determined Mr. Dunning, who asks a price for refunding; must conjure up new taxes if he doesn't go into Mr. Dunning's scheme; must prepare a very different budget for the autumn.

But on these things Mr. Hart is almost silent. When he comes to them, he talks no more extemporaneously. He takes up his text and reads it, a text no doubt pondered over in the cabinet chamber by night, each word weighed. Everything of this sort is postponed until fall, as it couldn't very well help being. Meanwhile, Mr. Hart is cheered as he looks at his swelling revenues—at the way things have turned out exactly as he had predicted in his last budget speech. He is cheerful, the Premier is cheerful, the average member is dazed. So dazed, in fact, that when Mr. Hart mentions his large and shiny surplus only the Premier grasps what he is talking about and pounds the desk along. That is the trouble with being as able and familiar with figures as Mr. Hart—the ordinary legislator, paid $1,000 a year, doesn't follow millions very easily.

INTEREST

ONE INTERESTING FACT you can catch, as it were, on the fly. If we were to maintain our sinking funds fully this year—which we won't—our debt would cost us $12,000,000 to maintain. That is half our entire revenue. This you can calculate as Mr. Hart rattles along, is $32,876 a day for debt alone. In the hour which Mr. Hart requires to tell the tale, we the taxpayers of British Columbia, should be paying $1,369.83 on our debt. We don't quite pay that, since we are passing up most of the sinking fund, but something like $1,000. Nay, every time the black hands on the white clock rounder click and jump ahead a minute, $22.83 more is due to our bondholders.

But the hon. members on the floor don't know that. No one but an idle fellow in the press gallery, with a pencil, paper and time on his hands, would bother to figure that out. No one would think of mentioning it on a cheerful occasion like this.

STORY

THE OCCASION IS SO cheerful that the Finance Minister, in the midst of his accounts, debts, debentures and sinking funds can pause to tell a little story on himself. The other day, says Mr. Hart, he was walking down the streets of Victoria and heard one Victorian say to another that "the Minister of Finance has swallowed the health insurance bill and now he can't buy it."

By the end of the hour, Mr. Hart has convinced the House of several things—that his revenues are going up, that things are far easier than they were, that Mr. Hart knows his finance, and that the real problems of his finance are still unsolved.

The custom in this House provides that the aspirant for the finance portfolio in the opposition shall be the first critic of the budget. Mr. Winch, the younger, adjourned the debate until the opening attack.

YOUTH AND CHRISTIANITY

To the Editor:—So professing faith in the power of Christianity, is a crime worthy of scorn and ridicule. I am an old man, but I have never yet entirely lost my faith in God. It grieves me to read of three young men being ridiculed for advancing Christian principles as the answer to our world problems of today, and by one much older than they, who should know better. But I suppose, such is the world. There will always be the skeptic. But I hope the young men responsible for the Youth Action Forum will not be disheartened.

To the Editor:—The Trades and Labor Councils of Victoria and Vancouver are to be congratulated on expressions aired in the press by their officials with regard to the utmost and urgent necessity of providing a method available to those financially incapable (most of us!) of procuring professional medical aid.

Both Mr. Brough of Vancouver and the local official, Mr. Chivers, are men of wisdom and careful thinkers. They represent a very large number of intelligent, trained workers—men equally important in their sphere as our business and professional men in their chosen callings.

The members of this organization wisely recognize the advantages that will follow the introduction of state health insurance for the population as a whole, and appear very determined that legislation to this effect shall become law—and without further procrastination. They have expressed opinions regarding the desirability of each adult contributing toward the cost—irrespective of income, and their opinions merit respect.

House Goes on Record As Against Attempt to Kill Canada's Ratification

British Columbia, through the Legislature, on Tuesday expressed unanimous opposition to the attempt being made at Ottawa by Thomas Reid, Liberal M.P. for New Westminster, to kill the Fraser River sockeye salmon treaty with the United States.

The House endorsed a motion of Clive Planta, Independent, Peace River, going on record as opposed to the rescinding of the ratification of the convention by Canada.

The treaty was ratified by Canada in 1930 but has not yet been ratified by the United States. It provides for the setting up of an international commission to regulate the Fraser River fishery and conserve the salmon.

Mr. Planta saw in the motion of Thomas Reid a move to substitute an ineffectual agreement for the present convention which would render the conservation scheme practically useless.

He said if Canada's ratification were withdrawn, it would give waterpower prior rights over fisheries on the river and would thus jeopardize the position of the fisherman.

His resolution also urged that the provincial fisheries commissioner use his good offices to secure, if possible, the ratification of the convention.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Commissioner of Fisheries, said the government had already taken the matter in hand and informed the federal authorities of British Columbia's opposition to withdrawal of the treaty. The resolution confirmed this action.

Understanding Support Asked

"What is the first thing you do when you hear of a child being abandoned, neglected or abused?" asked Miss Lyla Moss, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, at a women's meeting recently.

"Do you ring up the society, report the case, and then go on your way, serenely knowing full well that the case will be investigated and any necessary steps taken for the welfare of the child?"

"I am afraid that is what a lot of people do," she continued. "Do you ever stop and think what Victoria would do without such a society, or of the service that we try to give, not only to the children themselves, but to the public generally?"

"The Children's Aid Society needs your support—not only in money, which of course is most necessary, but in interest and in understanding. All our preventive work is dependent upon the voluntary contributions of the public—without these contributions the work of the society must suffer."

"We know we can be of tremendous help to the underprivileged child, aiding him with a companionship, counsel, example, altering his environment, changing his point of view, finding suitable recreations and outlets of his energy, encouraging him when he has perhaps fallen short, giving him new ideas towards which to strive, and tiding him over those critical years when the whole future wavers between good and evil."

"This work calls for tact, patience and a large expenditure of time and energy, but it would be impossible to name a more valuable or practical form of human mercy."

"The campaign for funds is continuing—we need more money if we are to meet the need for this service in Victoria. Send in your contributions, large or small, to campaign headquarters, 1234 Pandora Avenue."

WILL SPEAK ON "ANGELS OF MONS"

A. Widdison of Great Britain is conducting a series of gospel addresses in the Oaklands Gospel Hall at the corner of Cedar Hill Road and Hillside Avenue. He is passing through Canada on his way to Australia and the Far East on an evangelistic tour. Mr. Widdison has had a wide experience with evangelistic work in many parts of the world. At the commencement of the Great War he went to France with General

French's Contemplables. At the end of 1914 he was sent back to England to die. He recovered, however, and was able again to take up his gospel work. He is a quiet, but forceful speaker, and thousands have listened to his addresses, with evident appreciation and spiritual profit.

Good numbers have attended the services at Oaklands Hall. They will end on Friday next, when Mr. Widdison will speak on "The Angels at Mons."

The industrial committee was thanked by the City Council Tuesday evening for its efforts in connection with the Barsky-Schneiderman negotiations over motion picture plans. Cancellation of all arrangements was confirmed at the meeting.

A black and white photograph of a man sitting in a horse-drawn carriage. The man is wearing a dark coat and is looking out the open side of the carriage. The carriage is made of wood and has large spoked wheels. It is being pulled by a horse, which is partially visible on the left side of the frame. The background is a light, textured surface, possibly a wall or a fence.

Imitations Continue

Fifteen years ago, organized imitations of Charlie swept this country. On the vaudeville stage, in musical comedy, among amateurs, they were sure of a pleasant response from audiences. There were contests, seriously undertaken on a large scale. And the favorite parlor trick of the time was the never-failing imitation of Chaplin.

A LITTLE over a month ago, Charlie Chaplin attended an early morning business conference at a Los Angeles hotel. The word had somehow gotten around that the star was there, and in less than half an hour a crowd of nearly a thousand had gathered for a glimpse of Chaplin as he came out.

Fully three-fourths of that crowd of waiting admirers were boys and girls between the ages of six and ten. Most of them were too young to have ever seen Charlie Chaplin on the screen. For his most recent film, "City Lights," is over four years old. Yet this crowd was there for the glimpse. And there were cheers when he appeared.

The incident is not an isolated one. It has been repeated thousands of times in a thousand cities and countries. They vary only in the size of the crowd and the language of the plaudits.

Chaplin's Magic

If these young admirers had seen Chaplin in at least one or two films, their enthusiasm could be attributed to the genius of the star. If they were somewhat older and more familiar with the vagaries of mere living, their cheering could be traced to Chaplin's poignant understanding of that living. But they were young youngsters and only a few of them had seen Chaplin on the screen even once. The cause of their presence must have been the magic—the intangible magic—that is Chaplin, for Charlie Chaplin, the movie comic, transcends the scene of motion pictures.

There is much to attest to the magic that is Chaplin. And no greater proof exists than the solid wall of shelves in a huge vault at the Chaplin home, filled with books containing press clippings for the famous comedian from every part of the world.

There are those of a number of years ago when he appeared in picture after picture, adding millions to his following with each one. There are the clippings of more recent days that speak of Charles Chaplin as an artist, a genius, one of the world's great, and what not. As one thumbs through the clippings of today and yesterday and last week and last year, one finds that in spite of the fact that he has not appeared in a film for more than four years and has only now completed a new one, "Modern Times," he still stands out in the news columns of the world press.

They are still going on. For recent clippings from Japan tell of a contest for the "best impersonation of Charlie Chaplin" in which hundreds of men and boys enrolled, swarming the streets in Oriental imitations of the comedian.

Recently in England, a half-dozen basketball-carrying championship was sponsored by the Borough Market Charity Sports at the Herne Hill, London. To help swell the fund, Chaplin was asked and agreed to donate a special prize for the winner. He contributed a prize—in the form of a suit, an overcoat and a gold watch. This affair, entirely unconnected with the screen, is duplicated many times in many ways in the news items about Chaplin.

Still another common fear just been completed in England for "the best Charlie" for which prizes of a gramophone and a woven fibre chair were offered by a department store in the West End.

Charlie's Statue

There is a bridge in Rotterdam, Holland, with a large statue of Chaplin on its parapet. The star has been the subject of in-

Tony Sarg's marionette show and that of the Yale Puppeteers.

The magazine, Vanity Fair, recently published a page of celebrities who play the violin for no other reason than that they like the instrument. Chaplin was represented in such variously distinguished company as Benito Mussolini, Upton Sinclair and Albert Einstein. In another issue of the same periodical, he was pictured with Marconi, Edison and Ford as among the most prominent men of our time.

Pederewski, on his last visit to New York, said in an exclusive interview that his trip was a disappointment "because none of the Charlie Blues was showing."

The Mark Twain Association in New York recently wrote Chaplin asking for his endorsement of their booklet issued in conjunction with the establishment of "The Mark Twain Chair for the Advancement of Humor." To quote from the letter written by the head of the association: "I have always heard that it is easy to go to the king for a favor, so I find by this experience that that statement is true."

In Hungary several weeks ago, a poll was taken in one of the leading newspapers, asking its readers that if seven world-famous figures were in danger and only one was to be saved, whom would they choose to rescue. Chaplin won the majority of the votes.

Poe and Chaplin

One American newspaper discussed the subject: "Have you a photograph of a man with a distorted face?" The photographs used in this instance were those of Edgar Allan Poe and Chaplin. Another newspaper published a feature entitled "Distorted Faces of Celebrities." The face of Chaplin was distorted along with those of Lloyd George and Ramsay MacDonald.

These can be multiplied indefinitely, but they merely emphasize the celebrity of the man who started with a walking stick, an amusing hat, two oversized shoes and a trick moustache.

The stick, the hat, the shoes and the moustache have come down through the years as the unchanging symbols of Chaplin's fame. When he first came to America in 1910, and made a two-year tour in vaudeville, they were with him. When he made his first appearance in pictures, in the comedies of Keystone, they were with him. When he formed his own company—Charlie Chaplin Film Company—these were the first steps to acquire his own studio, the stick, the hat, the shoes and the moustache bulked immense among the assets.

They have come through the years with their owner — each radiating in miniature that magic of Chaplin. And now they are to be seen again.

Tradition Retained

In "Modern Times," a release of United Artists, the company in which he is the partner of Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda, Chaplin retains the hardy tradition that made him famous. He favors pantomime over talk, as he favors the simpler and stronger emotions over elaborate mental machinations.

Yet he has given the new production more detailed preparation than anything he has ever undertaken.

The script he uses was prepared under his direct supervision and from his own original story. It is the first occasion on which Chaplin will actually "shoot" from a manuscript completed beforehand. Heretofore he has merely had the skeleton story outline in his mind, improvising his action on the set. The filming was therefore a matter of months against the two years' camera work put in on "City Lights."

series of adventures together which motivate the many comedy and dramatic situations which have always been associated with the inimitable genius of Chaplin's presentations.

This is Miss Goddard's first appearance in a role of sufficient importance to bring out her potential starring qualities. For

From time to time there have been many rumors and conjectures on the nature of the new production. But he again depicts his familiar character and, of course, there is no dialogue. There are, however, many original sound effects and there is "indicated speech" to which the comedian has given much consideration, and which is, he believes, a distinct innovation. The picture, while it is without spoken dialogue, has all action synchronized to music, with many of Chaplin's own compositions incorporated in the musical score.

Background of Industry

Its locale—the industrial quarter of any great city — and its main action are limned against a varying background of factories, workshops, docksides and dance halls. All this necessitated the use of large crowds and the building of great sets on the ten-acre Chaplin Studio grounds in Hollywood.

Paulette Goddard has the leading feminine role opposite Chaplin—that of a waif whom he befriends. She is thrown into the streets, and they go through a many months she has been preparing — devoting all her time with the strictest discipline to the study of dramatics, voice and dance culture. Miss Goddard is said to possess youth, beauty, vivacity and an unusual personal charm.

Carter de Haven, well known stage and screen star, plays an important part. Henry Bergman, who has appeared in all Chaplin productions for the past sixteen years or more, is conspicuously cast. Many of the well-known players in former Chaplin comedies are seen again.

The completion of a new Chaplin story is not only of supreme interest to his legions of fans who have waited four years to see the King of Pantomime again, but will be another friendly challenge to certain Hollywood producers who, when "City Lights" was announced as a so-called "silent" in the earlier days of the "talkie" craze, predicted dire results and were thunderstruck at its phenomenal success.

Contrary to general belief, Chaplin is not averse to the talking pictures for screen expression or entertainment. But for his own medium, he is content to continue the "silent" trail alone.

Summer Sweethearts By Mabel McElliot

© 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

"All right, all right, now you've got me. Where do we go from here?" demanded Michael. "Not that I put much stock in this inheritance yarn. It sounds fishy. Nobody," he added with a darkening face, "ever gave me a penny. It sounds like a pipe dream."

"It's no pipe dream if it's the sole heir of Francis Albert Drayton Weatherose," pronounced the detective with a grin. "He was the younger son of a lord. Put that in your pipe and smoke it! His older brother inherited the place—seems like they're partly English. They're 'holdings,' the solicitor fellows said, in England, too. Anyhow in June this older brother died. He was," said the detective, consulting a slip of paper he had fished from his wallet, "named Hilary Edward Weatherose, Lord Carden."

Something flashed across Michael's face, hitherto dark and unresponsive.

"Ah, you've heard that name before, I'll be bound," murmured Mr. Malley triumphantly. He was finding this client an extremely irritating subject. What he expected he could not have said, but something like enthusiasm, at least. It wasn't every day in the week, he told himself, that you walked up to a fellow and told him he had come into a castle and a title and God knew what-all. Not that it meant much on this side of the pond; titles were going begging, from all he'd heard. Still it was something. Funny this kid couldn't seem to get the idea.

"I have heard it before," Michael said slowly. "There was a crest—on a scrap of paper in my father's collar box. I remember asking about it when I was a kid. My father said, 'I remember, that the Cardens had always had it, since the Wars of the Roses or something.'"

"He died—when?" queried Mr. Gerhardt, who had been waiting up to this very moment. Michael stared at him, considerably.

"When I was 10. My mother a year later. I was raised—I grew up, I mean—on the place."

"Well, that's the story," finished Mr. Malley with a relish. "Now we can turn ye over to Mister James William Downing of London, England, and collected up. It's been a long drag, Tom," he told his partner, "but we always get our man."

Gerhardt nodded. They both eyed Michael curiously.

Malley rose with some ceremony. "Well, we'll get in touch with Downing tonight. He's at the Waldorf. Don't go away, young fellow—"

Michael grinned. "I won't, pal. Thanks for the trouble."

"That's the stuff," Malley's great paw came out and whacked the tweed-covered shoulder resoundingly. "Sure, it wouldn't be natural if I didn't get a kick out of it. And the papers will have it tomorrow. I'll be bound. Or the next day anyway. Yet have reporters on yer doorstep."

A shadow crossed the young man's face.

"Ye don't like the notion much?" "Not reporters—no. A nuisance."

"Well, well, it's all in the day's work," assured Mr. Malley comfortably. "If they should happen to ask—and they will, no doubt about it—mention our names. Malley & Gerhardt, Second National Bank Building, Omaha, Nebraska. We always get our man."

Presently they left in a cab ordered over Michael's telephone. The young man watched them stow their plump, satisfied selves away in it. There was a puzzled look, almost a disturbed one, on his sunburned face.

Then Michael went into the shabby living-room where riding crops and week-old newspapers mingled with pipes and dust and disorder over which Clarence, Tip's father, never seemed to gain control.

Michael stared at the room with some distaste as he jiggled the telephone receiver. He was trying to lift it out of the picture of Katharine with her smooth, fair head, her exquisite skin, her delicate shoes and frocks and the scent that always clung about her. It was fantastic the afternoon's happenings themselves were sheer fantasy.

"Innocent 602?" May I speak to Miss Gyrkurst, please?" He grinned to himself. That wasn't really, her name. But only he and a shabby minister and a woman with floured hands were aware of it.

Katharine—Lady Carden. Lady Katharine of Donag Castle. Would she like that? Oh, it was a pipe-dream, a bubble that would presently burst.

Her cool voice on the telephone. A voice soft and sure and real like herself.

"Darling, this is me."

She had to be careful—he knew that. "Yes," she said. "Yes."

"It's all right," Michael told her, speaking low. "It's perfectly all right. They were detectives, but they had good news for me. Can't tell you now."

"Michael, I'm frightened of what we've done." Her voice came hurriedly, almost broken. "I must see you. Oh, I can't talk now. Someone's coming."

He had to ring off then. Had to be content with that. Perhaps she would call him later.

He was going out into the stable yard, hands in pockets, brooding over the strange day he had just lived through, when Sally came rushing up to him.

"Michael, precious!" she cried. "Daddy says there's just no use your saying you can't get away. He's got a man to put in charge. We can leave for South America any moment."

He stared at her. He had forgotten her completely.

But Sally would not allow herself to be so easily forgotten. She was a force to be reckoned with—and soon.

Thousands of housewives and young people who have taken advantage of the Old Dutch offer and obtained sets of the four Wm. A. Rogers All-Service units for the home, for hope chests, showers and other purposes, will welcome the announcement that Old Dutch is now offering seven new units on the same easy terms, in addition to the original four.

The new units are food drink spoons, butter spreaders, oyster cocktail forks, table spoons, cold meat fork, gravy ladle, butter knife and sugar spoon. With eleven different units from which to choose, anybody can now obtain sufficient silverware for practically every purpose in the average home. All that is necessary is to forward the Old Dutch people three windmill panels from Old Dutch labels and fifty cents for each unit desired.

This will be good news to all those who have already acquired the four units included in the first offer and who wish to add to their collection of fine silverware.

Col. W. S. Buell of Imperial Oil Company, said it was the shareholders, not the large number of service stations that cause high gas prices. His company had spent $1,000,000 in wages in British Columbia last year and paid $40,000 in taxes to Vancouver. If the city went into business, it would, in fact, be forcing the company to pay for its own competitors.

SHAKESPEAREAN SONGS DESCRIBED

F. T. C. Wickett Tells of "Golden Era of Music"; Assisting Artists

The Shakespearean era marked the golden age of drama and music in England, music receiving its highest tribute of appreciation from the immortal bard, according to F. T. C. Wickett during his erudite and interesting lecture before the Victoria Musical Arts Society yesterday evening at the Empress Hotel.

Shakespeare throughout his writings showed a thorough knowledge and understanding of music, the speaker said, and he quoted extensively from his works to show that his songs were suited to every purpose and occasion, "giving us music for the entire gamut of life, birth, days and marriages, and every emotion."

The immortal bard personified virtue, mercy, truth, vice and other characters, and introduced dialogue and original songs into his plays. Mr. Wickett touched upon the period which preceded Shakespeare, showing that prior to the sixteenth century church songs were freely used in medieval plays, but, with the introduction of comedy and buffoonery, the plays were abolished from the church, and it was then that secular songs made their appearance in the plays of the time.

The interest of Mr. Wickett's address was further enhanced by songs and dances contributed by well-known artists, while he himself played a lute and sang to open the programme. Miss Phyllis Deaville sang "It Was a Lover and His Lass"; "Under the Greenwood Tree"; "Hark! Hark! the Lark"; and "O Willow, Willow." Miss Dorothy Parsons' vocal numbers included "Take, Oh, Take Those Lips Away"; "Lawn as White as Driven Snow"; and "When Daisies Vied." Dudley Wickett sang "O Mistress Mine" from the original and then a Quilter setting, "Sing No More" and "Who Is Sylvia?" A trio comprising Jack Townsend, Stanley Wickett and Dudley Wickett sang two songs, "Hold Thy Peace" and "Three Merry Men."

Rosemary Parrow and "Fat" Boyd danced a "Favanne" arranged by Dorothy Wilson. A quartet comprising Miss Parsons, Miss Deaville, Dudley Wickett and Mr. Townsend sang "Farwell, Dear Love," and a duet by Miss Deaville and Dudley Wickett, "Jon, Come Kiss Me Now," closed the programme.

Native Daughters Present Jewel

The monthly meeting of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, was held on Wednesday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, with the chief factor, Miss Lillian Smith, presiding.

Reports were given by various committees. Miss E. Neelands reported on the last meeting of the B.C. Historical Society; the treasurer gave an account of the post's financial standing. During the evening a very pleasing ceremony took place, when Past Grand Factor, Miss K. Wilson, presented Past Chief Factor, Miss "Belle" Neelands, with her Past Chief Factor's Jewel, the recipient thanking the officers and members of Post No. 3 for the honor bestowed upon her.

Mrs. L. Lormier reported on the presentation of the pictures of Governor Bligh, by the post on March 11 to the Sir James Douglas School. Nominations for the various offices in the post for the ensuing year were then made. The election of officers will be held at the regular business meeting in April. Delegates were then elected to attend the Grand Post convention to be held in Vancouver the middle of April.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. C. Davies.

The members of the retiring executive committee will be the hostesses for the social evening to be held on Wednesday, March 25, in the K. of P. Hall.

A drive for membership will be undertaken shortly. Friday, March 20, has been chosen for the housewarming in their new quarters and to mark the occasion the members will hold a silver tea there in the afternoon, over which Mrs. David Leeming will preside. To this the public are cordially invited, particularly those who are afflicted with the loss of hearing and those interested in the welfare of those whose hearing is impaired.

Contributions in cash or kind to aid in the furnishings of the new clubrooms will be welcomed by the members.

Y.M.C.A. Linen Shower Has Generous Response

Annual Function Held Yesterday at Home of Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan; Much Linen and Cash Donated

Philanthropy appeared in delightful social guise yesterday afternoon when Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan placed her home, 729 Pemberton Road, at the disposal of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. for their annual linen shower. The many guests who spent a pleasant afternoon enjoying the social amenities left largest in the shape of a big pile of linen and a generous amount of cash for the replenishment of the Y.M.C.A. linen cupboard.

Mrs. Morgan was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Donald Macdonald, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew. At the receipt of custom were Mrs. Victor Clark and Mrs. M. Raynor, with Mrs. P. H. Scurrah and Mrs. Edwin Brown in charge of the receiving and listing of the linen.

LOVELY FLOWERS

Japanese primulas, daffodils, tulips and other spring flowers were arranged throughout the house. The tea table, covered with a handsome cutwork and fluted cloth, was centred with an artistic arrangement of daffodils, narcissi, pink tulips and blue iris, with tall rose tapers in Sheffield candelabra. Presiding at the tables were Mrs. G. M. Welr, Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Mrs. Angus Campbell, Mrs. L. A. Genge and Mrs. C. H. French.

Mrs. A. S. Lock had charge of the tea room arrangements, assisted by Mrs. W. Tuck, Mrs. Duncan Macdonald, Mrs. F. C. MacWhinney, with Mrs. C. E. Watkins and Mrs. E. Tomlin acting as waiters, and Mrs. C. E. French, Mrs. H. H. Woolston, Mrs. Alan MacLean, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. W. T. Strath, Mrs. P. Paulding, Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Mrs. M. J. Little, Mrs. F. Moore, Miss Dawson, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, Mrs. P. A. Gibbs, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Mrs. F. M. Bryant, Mrs. David Angus (Halebury).

Horicultural W.A.—The W.A. to the Victoria Horicultural Society will hold an open card party in the institute rooms, 635 1/2 Port Street, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. Both bridge and court whist will be played. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be served by the ladies at the close. As this is expected to be the last party for this season, the W.A. is anxious to make it a big success.

During the serving of tea, Mrs. Macdonald, on behalf of the auxiliary, thanked all those who had contributed to the shower, also Mrs. Morgan for so generously lending her home, which was such a delightful setting for an occasion of the kind. In appealing for the continued support and interest of members and their friends, Mrs. Macdonald referred to the important place of the Y.M.C.A. in the community. No other work had a more stabilizing influence on young boys and young men, she said.

Mrs. Macdonald presented Mrs. Morgan with a silver bon-bon dish as a token of the auxiliary's appreciation of her hospitality.

Native Daughters Present Gift to Sir James Douglas School

A few members of Post No. 3 Native Daughters of British Columbia were present yesterday afternoon at Sir James Douglas School to commemorate the arrival at Fort Victoria of Richard Blanshard, first governor of the crown colony of Vancouver Island.

Mrs. H. A. Beckwith gave a short talk on the life of Blanshard, and then showed lantern slides of several pioneers including Sir James and Lady Douglas, Dr. J. S. Helmcken and Mrs. Helmcken, Roderick Finlayson, Mrs. Dennis Harris, Mrs. Blenskin and daughter; several early views of Fort Victoria, the bastion and finally Richard Blanshard.

Mrs. J. A. Lorimer, on behalf of Post No. 3 Native Daughters of British Columbia, then presented a framed picture of Richard Blanshard to Mr. W. H. Wilson, the school principal.

A hearty vote of thanks to the visitors was moved by one of the pupils in a neatly worded address. James Douglas Helmcken and his sister Mary, pupils of the school, were much interested in the pictures of their great-grandfather, Sir James Douglas, and their great-grandmother, Dr. J. S. Helmcken.

This is the fourth picture of Governor Blanshard presented by Post No. 3 to the public schools. Other members of the society present were Mrs. T. C. Hubbard, Miss Etta Neelands and Miss M. Turner.

The business meeting was followed by a social evening, when the members entertained their friends in celebration of the sixteenth anniversary of the Institute. Chinese whist was played and guessing contests were enjoyed.

Supper was served, the table centred with a birthday cake decorated in the Institute colors, green, white and gold, the floral decorations carrying out the same color scheme.

The winners in Chinese whist were: First, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Parker; consolation, Miss Isabel McLean and Mrs. Allan. Prizes in the guessing contests were secured by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. McFarlane.

Dr. Weir Gives Examples Where Insurance Would Help

Details of further case studies made in Victoria and Vancouver last December, showing how ordinary people meet the financial problems connected with sickness costs, were released by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, this morning.

Widespread interest was occasioned by the description of three typical situations which were included in his recent statement. Dr. Weir said, and for this reason he thought that further information should be given. Other cases cited by Dr. Weir follow:

The husband has an income of about $700 a year. There are two children, the second being a baby born in the early winter of 1935. The hospital charges in connection with the first baby were $42.50. Of this bill only $14 had been paid a year later, so that in addition to this $14 the mother now owes the hospital for the second confinement a bill of about $35. The doctor's fee is $35 per case, but so far not a cent has been paid to the doctor for either of the two babies. The mother is, however, most anxious that the doctor be paid. With a yearly income of about $700 this family within a year had medical expenses of $147.50, or about one-fifth of their income for the year.

If the husband had been fortunate enough to be covered by health insurance, in return for a weekly payment of only 35 cents he would have had his same family doctor attend his wife in connection with both confinements, she would have received the same hospital care; but they both would be free from the burden of debt, and they would have had the satisfaction of knowing that they had paid their way. And the doctor would have been paid.

The husband in another family works in a garage and makes a monthly income of about $70. He and his wife are both in middle age. Recently his wife had to undergo an operation for the removal of her appendix and gall bladder and was in the hospital for almost three weeks. The expense of her illness totaled $293, including the doctor's bill. Two months after the operation they had managed to pay for the drugs and one-half the amount owing the hospital. The wife badly needed extra care at home during her convalescence, but because of the family's financial condition she "worried along" without it. Because of the depression no savings have been accumulated by the family. The husband's teeth need attention, but because he cannot afford to pay the dentist he will not consult him.

Under health insurance this heavy financial burden amounting to almost 40 per cent of their income for the year would have been entirely avoided. In return for the husband's contribution of 35 cents a week he would have obtained the best of medical attention for his wife, and, at the present time, would probably be under the care of a dentist because, being free from the burden of hospital and doctor's debts, he would feel free to undertake obligations with the dentist.

The next family has an income of about $30 a week. Out of this small income five little children have to be looked after. The two eldest children have recently had to undergo operations. The first three children in this family, according to their mother, are paid for, but they still owe for the last two babies. The total bills for the doctor and hospital amount to over $300 and the husband is attempting to pay this off as rapidly as possible.

"Health insurance would certainly be a God-send to this family," said Dr. Weir. "Forty cents a week would be a very small sum to this husband and father, especially when it would mean that his wife and children could get needed attention without feeling that there was an element of charity connected with it."

"How, in the face of this evidence—and the cases could be multiplied indefinitely—any one can seriously maintain that there is no need for health insurance is beyond me. Such an attitude shows a fundamental ignorance of the economic problems involved and of the heavy burdens which are being imposed on those conscientious and hardworking members of our community who make every effort to meet their obligations even when it means the greatest hardship to them."

Divergent opinions on improvements at Quadra School grounds were heard at yesterday evening's meeting of the City School Board. The Quadra Parent-Teacher Association wrote a letter of appreciation for the work that had been done and which was contemplated, while a resident of the district voiced objection to certain developments which would place a hard-surface tennis court or roller rink close to the property.

HOSPITALS GET SPECIAL AID

Grants Listed in Provincial Estimates; More For Youth Programme

Several B.C. hospitals will receive special grants from the provincial government this year, according to figures tabled in the Legislature.

The estimates provide a $10,000 special grant to the Royal Columbia Hospital at New Westminster, $2,000 for the Cranbrook Hospital, $7,000 for Kamloops, $4,500 for Lytton, $3,000 for Nakusp and $6,000 for Smithers.

Vancouver General will again get a $2,700 special grant, the same as last year. The Columbia Coast Mission gets $1,500 and Atlin Hospital $800.

Grants to charitable organizations are all unchanged. They include $400 for the Victoria Y.W.C.A., $800 to the Vancouver Y.W.C.A. and $200 to New Westminster Y.W.C.A.; $1,380 to the B.C. division Canadian Red Cross Society and $150 to the New Westminster branch; $1,000 to the Central City Mission, $800 to the Crippled Children's Hospital, $4,000 to Grace Hospital, $25,000 to industries for blind adults, $200 to the Junior Red Cross, $1,500 to the Salvation Army Maternity Home, and $2,000 to the Victorian Order of Nurses, split up to the different branches.

The province is maintaining its contribution to the forest protection fund at $300,000, and will repeat its grant of $50,000 for lumber trade extension work.

APPRENTICE PLAN

The administration of the government's new apprenticeship system is estimated to cost $2,244 this year, but the former vote of $7,500 for vocational guidance and employment of youths will be reduced to $2,500.

The programme of recreational training and physical education for youth will be widened this year, with the original vote of $15,000 for this purpose increased to $30,000. The adult education scheme has also been enlarged and now will cost $30,000.

SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Revision of the curriculum of the provincial schools, commenced last summer, is estimated to cost $10,000 this year. Major H. B. King and an expert committee of teachers are carrying out the work.

The Board of Industrial Relations, which has had its work increased to administer the increasing number of labor regulations, will get $7,500 as against $5,000 last year.

Improvements and building of new schools in rural areas will cost the province $91,000, an increase of $50,000, and the sum of $5,000 will be voted for school libraries, up $3,000 from last year.

In line with the policy of enlarging its publicity to attract tourists the government proposes a special $5,000 grant to the Game Board for this purpose.

Claude W. Cook was fined $5 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty in the Provincial Police Court yesterday to a charge of failing to have his car properly equipped with headlights and a horn.

Supplementary Vote $610,744

Police and Hospital Costs Last Year Ran to High Figure

The high cost of policing, due to labor unrest and soaring hospital bills during the last fiscal year took a large slice from the provincial treasury, and were the two major items in supplementary estimates amounting to $610,744 which Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, tabled in the Legislature yesterday.

Attorney-General Sloan was forced to ask for $288,000 over and above his ordinary police estimates to cope with the relief costs and longshoremen's strikes in Vancouver. An additional $15,000 was voted for Okalla Prison Farm as well.

The administration of justice also came higher than was expected, an extra $20,000 being voted for this purpose.

Grants to hospitals, which are statutory on the basis of seventy cents a day per patient, reached a grand total of $905,000, requiring an extra $110,000 above the $795,000 voted in last year's estimates.

Despite the unforeseen costs, the improvement in general revenues combined with economies in other directions, will permit a surplus on the province's operating account of some $1,700,000 in the fiscal year ending March 31.

Social Credit League Urges Government to Adopt Trading Plan

The British Columbia government yesterday was urged to call Major C. H. Douglas into conference to work out a special trading policy for the province by which surplus goods would be traded for non-competitive foreign products.

A. D. Creer and A. H. Jukes, representing the B.C. Social Credit League, met Premier Pattullo and presented a brief in which the plan was suggested.

The League proposed the provincial government should do everything it could to facilitate reciprocal trading with foreign nations and that it should co-operate with the other western provinces in so doing.

The exchange, it was explained, could be brought about with the issue of suitable credit instruments based on foreign credits secured by the export of British Columbia goods.

"We believe such credit instruments, based on foreign credit easily recognized as not having been created within this province, would be universally accepted in British Columbia as being subject to liquidation and retirement when the complementary import of foreign goods took place and that this entire procedure could be effected without the necessity of federal action or for the issue of currency," the brief said.

CITY TEMPLE Y.P.S.

An interesting address on "Faith, Hope and Love" was delivered at the regular weekly meeting of the Victoria City Temple Young People's Society held on Tuesday, speaking on these topics were Pearl Findlay, Sybil Crawford and Ralph Holt, each a member of the society.

The worship service was conducted by Andy Swallow, assisted by Elsie Clark leading the prayer and Ernie Colman read the scripture.

Among the few items of business a letter of resignation was read, tendered by Irene McDonald, the world affairs convenor. This was accepted with regret, her resignation being due to the fact that she is leaving for England early in April to reside.

Next week's meeting is in charge of the citizenship convenor. All young people and their friends are welcome.

PLECTRAL GROUP GIVES CONCERT

Victoria Orchestra Assisted By Several Soloists at Memorial Hall

An appreciative audience yesterday evening attended the concert presented by the Victoria Plectral Orchestra and assisting artists in the Memorial Hall. The orchestra was conducted by W. M. M. Touche.

Solo contributions were presented by Mrs. Marjorie Hansen, pianist; Miss Betty Scott, mandolinist; Misses Dorothy Graham, Betty Pavett, June Gibson and Margaret Griffin. Mr. Touche sang "I Hear a Thrush" during the intermission.

Included in the programme were "Pilgrims Chorus" and a novel march, "Belles of Victoria," by Percy Scott, director of the orchestra. Other numbers were: "War March of the Priests," "Love's Dream After the Ball," "Norwegian Dance No. 2," "Astudintina Waltz," "Spanish Dance No. 1" and "Simple Confession."

Mrs. Hansen presented "Etude" by Scriabin, and Miss Scott's number was "Le Cygne." A Hungarian dance was given by Miss Graham; a Spanish dance by Miss Pavett, a tap dance by Miss Gibson and an Oriental number by Miss Griffin.

SCIENTISTS HERE ASK EXCLUSION

Unfair to Include Them in Health Insurance, Delegation Says

Exemption of Christian Scientists from the government's health insurance scheme is sought by a delegation in the city today, headed by Newton Burdick of Vancouver.

Representations have been made to the government and members to this effect.

The Christian Science representatives claim they should not be forced to pay money into the health insurance fund for medical treatment when they have objections on religious grounds to this form of treatment.

Other laws of the province contain precedent for excluding persons who hold objections to medicine from being forced to take medical treatment providing they observe ordinary health rules, it was pointed out. They suggested a provision of this sort be put in the Health Act.

AUTOIST FINED STRIKING HORSE

Duncan, March 12.—James Martin of Duncan was fined $50 and $3.75 costs in the court house by Magistrate Tisdall for "failure to exercise necessary caution." Mr. Martin was driving along a road near Cherry Point when his car struck a horse ridden by Miss Aurille Forbes of Cople Hill. The horse's knee was slightly hurt.

After the Washington Monument had stood unfinished for many years, suggestions were made that it be left at the height of 150 feet, and that a fire be kept burning atop the shaft throughout the centuries to come,

Detroit at Rangers.
Maroons at Chicago.

Toronto, March 12.—The twenty-goal-a-season men of the National Hockey League, who rank with the .225 batsmen of baseball, have done a disappearing act. For the second time since the N.H.L. stretched its borders across the United States, there is not an honest-to-goodness big bomber in sight.

There is not, for a fact, a single player on the records who has scored twenty goals this season. And they have only ten days to go. Charlie Conacher, Toronto Maple Leafs, who bagged thirty-six last season, leads the goal-getting pack with nineteen. This is quite a comedown for the right winger whose average has been around twenty-seven.

Young Sweeney Schriner, New York Americans, leading all point-men with forty-nine, has accumulated eighteen goals. The Calgary lad is hailed around the circuit as the year's sensation. Sweeney scored eighteen goals and forty points last year, his first in the N.H.L. when he was merely a fine rookie.

SCORING LIGHTER
This year the scoring has been lighter. Defences and defensive systems have flourished. Netmen have looked better than good. Two great forward lines, the Primeau-Jackson-Conacher "kids" of Toronto, and the Cook-Boucher-Cook pattern-drawers of New York Rangers, failed and were looked upon.

In the 1934-35 season, nine teams scored a total of 1,067 goals. So far this season eight teams have scored 756.

Among the twenty-goal gang last year who have fallen off the pace are Syd Howe and Johnny Sorell, Detroit; N.C. Thomas, American; Bill Cook, Rangers; Harvey Jackson, Toronto; Herbie Cain, Maroons; Dit Clapper, Boston, and Leroy Goodenough, Canadiens. Bill Cook took a terrible tumble from twenty-one goals to five this year.

The little guard that has scored more goals includes Hooley Jackson, Jimmy Ward, Baldy Northcott, Maroons, and Bill Thomas, Toronto. That rugged Smith-Northcott-Ward line bagged only twenty-three goals last season and they will more than double the figure before this campaign ends. The league's most improved centre, has already doubled his goal total of nine.

ROSS DECISIONS WALLACE AFTER TEN ROUNDS OF SOLID PUNCHING

McCarthy, Spokane, in the six-round semi-final bout.
The fighters mixed freely from the bell, and in less than fifteen seconds Buxton had floored the Spokane battler, who took a nine count.

McCarthy was down a second time, but returned to the fray and was again laid on the canvas. This time he came up groggy and the referee stopped the fight.

Eddie Ryan, Winnipeg, pounded out a six-round decision over Phil Trudeau, Vancouver lightweight.

Sidney Brent, colored welterweight, of Seattle, won a technical knockout over Sonny Griffiths in the last of a four-round preliminary, and Ronald Beaudin, Montreal, decisioned Don Inkster, Vancouver, in the four-round curtain raiser.

British Workers' Sports Association Takes Move Against Berlin Games

London, March 12.—The British Amateur Athletic Federation will be asked to boycott the Berlin Olympics at its annual meeting here March 21.

The following resolution has been proposed by the National Workers' Sports Association: "This annual general meeting of the A.A.F. is of the opinion that the spirit which prompted the organization of the Olympic games cannot be forwarded by participation in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin and instructs the association to withdraw support and withhold permission from any members making application to compete."

Rome, March 12.—Italy will attend the Olympic Games at Berlin, officials announced today, despite efforts to boycott Germany.

A member of the Italian Olympic committee said the proposal to boycott the Games had not even been discussed by the committee.

HUDSON'S BAYS WIN

Four minutes after the start of the game Harry Holmes opened the scoring for Hudson's Bay as that team set up a lead over James Bay Wanderers at Haywood Avenue.

Play was fast from the opening whistle with the department store boys on the offensive right up to the change-over. In spite of a steady fall of rain and muddy ground passing was neat and fairly accurate. The hall traveled back and forth fairly evenly for the first twenty minutes after the opening goal and then Tommy Belford pushed home the first goal for the Wanderers to put matters on an even basis after a neat pass from Davidson. It was not long until Holmes, making good after a rumble by Sadler, Wanderer's goalie, put Hudson's Bay up one again.

STRETCH LEAD
Twenty minutes after half-time Don Fish scored for the department store to put the Boys two goals ahead. Wanderers began to press after this but had a hard time breaking through a stone-wall defence. A penalty gave Wanderers their final goal when Belford banged home a nice shot to the top of the net.

Wanderers finished up with only ten men, Eastwood, right fullback having injured his ankle. McMillan refereed.

Hudson's Bay—Baxter, O'Connell, Wyatt, Williamson, Kennedy, McCallan, Fish, Barnwell, Holmes, Stevens and Oakman.

James Bay—Sadler, Eastwood, Thorne, G. Belford, Mac Bourne, Davidson, White, T. Belford, Fieldhouse and White.

A series of four contests, starting tonight, will be run off every Thursday evening at the Crystal Garden, the Victoria Table Tennis Club announced today.

This evening a handicap singles event will be held, and handicap doubles, open doubles and open singles will be played off during the following weeks. Cups will be awarded to winners.

Victoria High Wins YANKS LOOK FORMIDABLE

Defeats Victoria College Fifteen 16 to 3 in Annual Match For Kiwanis Cup; Winners Led 8 to 3 at Half-time; Good Runs Witnessed

By defeating the Victoria College 16 to 3, the Victoria High School rugby fifteen yesterday carried off the Kiwanis trophy, which is at stake in the annual battle between these two teams. The silverware thus comes back to the High School, from whom the collegians took it last year.

Yesterday's game was played on the High School ground, and despite a sloppy field and threatening weather there was a large attendance of supporters for both teams.

Ten minutes after the game opened the High School went in the lead and held it throughout the game. Vic Painter, at stand-off half, and Bob Murdoch, at fullback, were the outstanding players on the College squad. The High School players worked together like a machine.

OPENING SCORE
High School's first points came from a free kick on the twenty-five-yard line. Jack Cosier, whose accurate kicking was a feature of the game, placed it neatly over the bar.

High's next points came soon after when the ball was dribbled over the line and C. Miller and C. Lucas both dropped on it. Cosier's kick for points went right over the centre of the posts.

College had a good chance to score when they were awarded a free kick on the twenty-five-yard line, but Fraser Sheppard's kick was wide.

Near the end of the first half, College dribbled the ball down to the High School line, but were forced out just inside the line. Two line outs were held, but no good came from them. On the next out College elected a scrum, and Taru Yoneda, speedy scrum-half, weaved his way over the line for the Collegians' only points. Sheppard's kick from a difficult angle failed.

At half-time the score was 8 to 3 for the High School.

The next points came half way through the second half. Porky Andrews received the ball behind his own twenty-five-yard line, and passed to Doherty. Doherty passed to Tom Dalzell in the centre of the field, and the latter made a spectacular run and downed the ball over the College line. Jack Cosier's kick was successful.

Fred Smith scored the final points for the High squad when he made a pretty twenty-five-yard run and scored near the corner. Cosier's kick failed.

Lieut. Commander Wurtle refereed. The teams follow:
High School—J. Cosier, F. Smith, J. Ferguson, G. Andrews and B. Brown; B. Noel and Bob Macmureh; J. Russell, D. Bray, T. Dalzell, C. Miller, C. Lucas, J. McGard, P. Doherty and I. Elliott.
College—R. Murdoch; D. Stewart; F. Fields, C. Stevens and F. Sheppard; Painter and Taru Yoneda; W. Harris, R. Robertson, C. Stewart, A. Drummond, P. Leighton, G. Whitaker, W. Moore and R. Fisher.

TRAIL JUNIORS IN HOCKEY WIN

Calgary, March 12.—Surprising reversal of form gave Trail Tigers an upset 5 to 3 victory over Calgary Rangers here yesterday evening in the second game of the inter-provincial Abbott Cup play-downs.

Raymond Jacks Default Series

Raymond, Alta., March 12.—Alberta's senior men's basketball champions, Raymond Union Jacks, will not enter the playdowns for the Canadian title, Coach Robinson announced yesterday. The guarantee necessary to bring the British Columbia champions east is too large to be considered at present by the Raymond Athletic Association, he said.

New York Club Should Be Serious Threat in American League Baseball Race

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—While the experts are busy themselves picking New York Yankees to finish no better than third or fourth this season, Manager Joe McCarthy rises to object. "Give us our share of the percentage and we will show you a one-two ball club," he said here yesterday.

Most observers regard the Yankees as strictly an "if" club. "All right," says McCarthy, "let them build us around a question mark if they want to. We finished second last season and we did so with several cylinders missing. They'll start hitting again this year and we'll surprise a lot of people."

"Lou Gehrig didn't have such a bad year, but it was a poor year for Gehrig. Lefty Gomez was below par all the way. Bill Dickey was just so-so. Can you imagine these fellows having two off years in succession? It isn't in the law of averages."

OBTAINED JOHNSON
During the winter the Yanks obtained Roy Johnson, a better than 300 hitter, from Boston Red Sox.

With the addition of Johnson and Joe Di Maggio, the high-priced recruit from the "Red Sox," McCarthy thinks the Yanks now have one of the strongest outfields in either major league.

Di Maggio, if he stays with the club, will battle it out with Johnson for the leftfield post.

George Selkirk, can't be counted out. He had a tough job last season, trying to fill Babe Ruth's old spot. Still he hit more than 300 and I'm figuring on using him in right field again," said McCarthy.

"If Ben Chapman signs he'll go back to centre, leaving Johnson and Di Maggio available for left and utility purposes."

The Yanks will have their 1935 infield intact—Gehrig on first, Tony Lazzeri on second, Red Rolfe on third and Frank Crosetti at short. Crosetti's broken leg is completely mended.

Gomez, Charlie Ruffing, at present a holdout, and Johnny Broaca, are figured starting pitchers, with a fourth to be chosen from "Bump" Hadley, obtained during the winter from Washington; Johnny Murphy, who started in relief roles last year, and Monte Pearson, from Cleveland. Steve Sundar, a big right-hander from Newark, is looking good and may be kept around to help Pat Malone, Walter Brown and Vito Tamulis with relief duties.

Bill Dickey again will head the catching department, with Joe Glenn and Arndt Jorgens as assistants.

City's Financial Position Shown

Mayor Leeming Reveals Difficulties Facing Victoria in Brief Prepared For Submission To Ottawa Conference of Mayors

Victoria's pressing financial situation for which "the remedy must come only from the provincial authorities without delay" was outlined to the City Council Tuesday evening in detail by Mayor David Leeming in a statistical report compiled by D. A. Macdonald, city controller-treasurer, at his instructions.

The report, the mayor said, would be taken to Ottawa for presentation before the Canadian mayor's conference. He hoped it would also be taken up with the provincial government.

Up to 1930, the mayor said, the city had been reducing its debt by about $400,000 a year.

Since that time the city had refunded its annual serial debentures, amounting in 1935 to $231,605, and had ceased to make payments to the sinking fund for two years. It would be necessary, he added, to seek legislation this year to avoid payment of $258,207 to the sinking fund.

FOREGO REQUIREMENTS
"This means," Mayor Leeming said, "for the year 1936 the sum of $495,839 would go unprovided for."

In the last five years a total of $490,341 had been used from the surplus earnings of the fund and at present the fund had a deficit of $175,940, which put an end to that resource.

Turning to the city debt he showed little change in the gross debenture debt which stood at $16,229,144 in 1929 and at $16,082,006 last year. An increase in sinking funds on hand at the end of last year had reduced the net debenture debt at the end of 1935 to $11,687,005, against $13,075,185 in 1929.

Since December, 1929, new tire equipment, new exhibition buildings and unemployment relief had added $812,500 new debt to the city. Further borrowings from the provincial government for relief had swelled the total to $922,500.

The mayor noted that where serials and sinking fund instalments had been paid in 1930 they would be refunded and ignored respectively in 1936.

Assessments in the city had shrunk $3,082,844 from $24,794,379 in 1930 to $21,711,535 in 1935. Taxable improvements had shrunk $1,027,840.

"In spite of the tremendous reduction in land assessment, the city is unable to procure more than one-third of present assessment when making the cost of reverted land," the mayor said.

The tax levy had declined 2 per cent from $1,736,419 in 1930 to $1,690,000 in 1935, he continued. The individual taxpayer was having to meet a heavier charge annually, he said.

No provision had been made in the last five years for serial debentures, sinking funds requirements, and unemployment relief borrowings, which, with the use of the sinking fund surplus, amounted to $2,859,452 since 1930.

HIGHER BUDGET
The mayor reviewed contributing factors which would bring the budgetary requirements for 1936 to a point $180,000 above the 1935 estimates.

The reduction of the assessment on land in 1936 of over $2,000,000 would result in an increase of approximately two and one-half mills and that with the extra charge would result in an increase of seven and one-half mills in the tax rate.

He showed how tax collections had dropped from $9,823 per cent in 1930 to $7,713 per cent in 1935. The reduction of 13.1 per cent represented $206,115.42 of the 1935 collections.

Since 1930 when the tax assessors stood at $13,021 the amount of property which had come back on the city had increased arrears by $290,518, including the 1930 figure.

From 1927 to 1931 reversions of property for non-payment of taxes had practically ceased and lots sold to the public represented more than the loss of reverted property in those years, the mayor said.

DECREASED REVENUE
Revenue from sales to the public in 1930 was $130,000, while last year it was only $19,000. That item alone represented a decreased revenue of $111,000 in 1935, being equal to three mills, the mayor said.

During the last four years 1,618 properties had reverted or were in the process of reversion, he continued.

MAY INTERVIEW WEIR SHORTLY

The delayed interview sought by representatives of the City School Board and the finance committee of the City Council with Hon. George M. Weir, Minister of Education, will probably be held late next week, a letter from the minister read at yesterday evening's school board meeting indicated. Pressure of business had kept him from making an appointment this week, Dr. Weir said, but he hoped to have time to see the delegation late next week. The combined city group intends to seek a higher grant for Victoria schools on the grounds the city loses much in the way of potential revenue through tax-exempt provincial property within its bounds.

A restitution of 6 per cent in salaries had been made last year. Deterioration of physical assets since 1930 were indicated in a table showing expenditures for that year, or a reduction of $127,000 in public works of a maintenance nature.

FACE BIG EXPENDITURE
"The situation developing is one that must be checked in the very near future, otherwise the city will be forced to borrow money to meet very heavy expenditures that should be provided for out of current revenue," he said before turning his attention to the decline in new construction.

In 1930 seventy-six new homes were erected in Victoria against twenty-five last year. The mayor placed the excess of depreciation over the value of new construction at $600,000 per annum.

Whole areas of old dwellings in the city were in a deplorable condition and the excessive taxation prevented the owners from making necessary alterations and repairs. In many cases lack of revenue was forcing owners to abandon ownership.

With regard to exemptions the mayor said values of property exempt in the city was over $20,000,000. Provincial government exemption amounted to $3,528,530, including $691,480 on land and $2,837,050 on improvements.

"If this amount were subject to taxation on the 1935 rate of 41 mills on 100 per cent valuation of land and 60 per cent on improvements, the provincial government would be paying $98,142.27. It would be proportionately higher in 1936 if the mill rate has to be increased," Mayor Leeming said.

OLD AUDITORIUM IS GIVEN AWAY

The old Okauchis auditorium, pledged for the replacement of which have been shuttled regularly through school trustee elections, will change its location.

With a new building in process of construction to take its place, the school board yesterday evening, on a motion by Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, seconded by Trustee Walter Staneland, decided to give the old structure to St. Alban's church for use as a weekday gathering hall.

Rev. F. W. Weaver, writing for St. Alban's, asked for the structure, stating it would be removed to the church's property if given to the mission.

The gift was made by the board on the understanding its removal would be carried out without cost or liability to the city school authorities.

SAFETY COURSES PIONEERED HERE

The City School Board had apparently pioneered a general movement for safety courses in Canadian schools, Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin told the board yesterday evening.

She referred to the board's recent support of a resolution passed by the Local Council of Women suggesting safety courses in the schools.

A recent issue of The Canadian Home Journal had devoted an article to the scheme, she said, displaying the printed matter for the perusal of her fellow trustees.

Mrs. MacLaurin also distributed pamphlets outlining safety courses put out by the American Automobile Association, which she had secured through the local branch of the Automobile Club.

DENY PARFITT BRUSH CHARGE

School Board Says Chamber of Commerce Man Ignorant of Facts

Surprise over the reported action of Jumps Parfitt in allegedly charging, in ignorance of true facts, a member of the school board with selling the board imported brushes to the exclusive of a local manufacturer's product, was voiced at yesterday evening's meeting of the City School Board.

Mr. Parfitt was reported to have charged "that the City School Board would not deal with a local brush manufacturer, choosing, instead, to patronize an English firm for which a member of the board is the local agent." The statement covered discussion at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors on Tuesday afternoon.

The newspaper report was read in full by Trustee C. R. Bishop.

CONTRADICTION

"I think a statement like this should be contradicted by the board. Trustee Staneland has not sold a brush to the board since he was made a trustee," Trustee Bishop stated.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, as chairman of the finance committee, said no effort had been made by any member of the board to sell brushes to the schools. Some brushes had been purchased from a Vancouver firm and were being used on trial, he said, but to his knowledge no one had approached the finance committee with a view to selling the board locally-made brushes. Certainly, he said, Trustee Staneland had not tried to sell brushes to the board since his election.

PROPOSITION MADE

Trustee Walter Staneland stated a local manufacturer had come to his office with the very improper suggestion that his brushes might be sold to the board through Trustee Staneland's firm. The trustee had declined to do business on that basis and had advised the manufacturer to submit tenders in the regular way if he wished to sell his goods to the schools.

Trustee Percy George, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, expressed surprise that Mr. Parfitt had not come to the board to learn the true facts before making his alleged charges. He was also surprised the chamber directors had discussed the question without learning the truth on the matter.

Apparently, Trustee Bishop remarked, Mr. Parfitt had "gone off half cocked."

Trustee Wm. Moreby, chairman of the board, told the trustees he would not have received a delegation personally with such a protest. Any delegations would have to see the board as a whole as far as he was concerned.

MORE FUNDS FOR MILK ARE NEEDED

Faced with the difficulty of providing sufficient milk to needy children in Victoria schools with insufficient funds to purchase the commodity, leaders of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., had drafted several plans with a view to raising more money, Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin told the City School Board yesterday evening.

The chapter leaders believed they could raise $400 a year for the work, but thought $1,500 needed to carry it out entirely.

The work was undertaken in memory of Dr. O. M. Jones, Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin told the board, and the chapter was anxious to have it continue.

As suggestions, the I.O.D.E. body had advanced the idea of approaching ten clubs for annual contributions for that service. More emphasis would be placed on the tag day this year, and greater publicity would be sought for the objective, she added.

Appreciation of the services of special officer Joe Addison in his school patrol was voiced at yesterday evening's meeting of the City School Board by Trustee Kenneth Ferguson. The board was notified of Mr. Addison's transfer to the regular police force and was informed it would no longer be required to contribute toward his salary.

NOTES OF THE LEGISLATURE

TOMORROW

Budget debate.

YESTERDAY

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, made his budget speech. It was the tenth time he has brought down the budget in the B.C. House.

The Finance Minister had the whole afternoon to himself. His speech took just one hour and the House adjourned immediately afterwards.

Mr. Hart presented an Eden-like appearance. For the budget occasion he discarded his customary business grey suit in favor of formal black coat, striped grey trousers and high collar.

To the gallery listeners the ease with which the Finance Minister handled his figures was impressive. He made much of his speech extemporaneously with only occasional reference to statistical tables.

The Premier thumped his desk vigorously when Mr. Hart announced his $119,000 current surplus in the new estimates. Other members appeared a bit dazed by the torrent of figures and before they realized what it was all about the Finance Minister was off again on another set of explanations.

Even in the midst of his higher mathematics, the Finance Minister found time to sandwich in his Irish wit. He told a story on himself about overhearing the remark that "Hart has swallowed his budget" and now he can't budget.

While Mayor G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., no longer has the right to speak on the floor of the Legislature, his voice was heard in the committee rooms this morning. He appeared in connection with Vancouver's private bill for charter amendments, and was warmly welcomed as a former member.

SECOND REPORT MADE ON DRIVE

Total Subscription Value to Date is $2,131. Object is $8,300

Divisional leadership in the Y.M.C.A. financial campaign changed over to Major E. G. Rosebottom as an additional $864 was reported, representing 123 new pledges, at the second supper meeting of the drive held in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday evening.

With $1,268 already reported the drive total now stands at $2,131, representing 220 pledges and $1,338 in cash.

J. V. Johnson reporting for "Y 1" turned in five new pledges valued at $35, bringing the total value of pledges to date to $69 for that team.

E. J. Patt, reporting for "Y 2," was high man among the captains with nine new subscriptions valued at $98, bringing the total value for the team to $239. R. Mulholland reported new subscriptions for "Y 3" and Norval Peterson reported six new subscriptions for "Y 4."

Reporting for "Division M," Sam Hill, H. Paulding, L. Mayhew and A. A. Heritage reported a total of twenty-five new pledges representing a value of $99.50, which in addition to the figures turned in Monday night brought the total number of pledges for that division to forty-seven with a total value of $308.

Major J. Barracough, leading Division A, had thirty-four new subscriptions valued at $105.50, making a total of forty-nine pledges valued at $1,895.50.

The special names committee reported seven new pledges worth $335 and brought the total for that group to date to twenty-four pledges worth $1,009.50.

In the absence of Mayor David Leeming, campaign chairman, H. B. Witter, president of the "Y," took the chair, and stressed the necessity of a full attendance at the campaign supper on Friday evening at 6 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A.

DISCUSS MANY MINING POINTS

Several Suggestions Advanced by Legislative Committee to Aid Industry

The mining committee of the Legislature today unanimously endorsed a resolution passed by the Grand Forks Board of Trade in favor of removal or substantial reduction in the tariff on mining and milling equipment not produced in Canada.

W. J. Asselstine, Liberal, Atlin, said that British Columbia companies were not only suffering from this tariff when equipment was imported from other countries, but when purchased in Canada had to pay high freight rates from the east.

The committee also endorsed a resolution calling for preliminary reports of geological parties sent out by the Dominion government last year. E. T. Kenny, Liberal, Skeena, pointed out that no information was yet available on the work done in his district and prospectors were working under a handicap.

Refusal of the Trail smelter to accept more than 25 per cent of silicic acid had resulted in many small operations being closed down in the southern interior, members said, with many men on relief who at work a year ago. The Trail plant now had 27,000 tons of silicic acid in reserve and there was little prospect of small mines reopening so long as the ban on their ore continued, it was reported.

George Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, said the P.C.E. was offering no assistance in the development of properties along that line. It should have an organization to bring in men and capital to open up prospects. Any private railway would be said.

R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm, asked what assistance was being given by the Department of Mines to the industry. He was not offering criticism but said that the $40,000 spent on trails, while fairly distributed, was highly inadequate to the actual needs. He estimated the Department of Education was given half a million dollars more than last year, while the Departments of Mines and Public Works were left as they were. He was not opposed to more money for education but did not think the other two departments were receiving equal treatment.

Mr. Asselstine suggested the government should employ airplanes to prospect for minerals in areas such as the Unk River country in the north, where promising leads had been discovered. He recommended to the government fields now virtually inaccessible but which develop large operations.

At later meetings of the committee Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, will be called upon to explain various matters under discussion, such as portable mills for small working and more trails, while Attorney-General Sloan will be called in respect to the Securities Act which has come in for much criticism in mining journals.

Fool Detectives With New Packages

Two detectives in a prowler car yesterday afternoon were doing some investigating on Camosun Street when a loaded truck drove up on the opposite side of the street to make a delivery.

The truck was covered with a tarpaulin in much the same manner as moving pictures depict covered trucks used for bootlegging in the United States.

Ever on the watch the detectives took careful note as they saw the driver get out, pull the tarpaulin back slightly and start delivering packages to a nearby house. Finally their curiosity got the best of them and they walked over to the truck.

"What have you got there?" they asked.

"Coal," replied the driver.

"Oh, yeah."

"Sure, this is the new Kolpak-coal wrapped in packages and I'm just delivering a quarter of a ton to this house," was the wry reply as the law walked quietly away.

There will be no change in the basis for the grants, seventy cents per day per patient, but by reducing hospitalization a saving would be made.

RELICS GIVEN TO ARCHIVES

Landing of Governor Blanshard Commemorated by Historical Association

The arrival of Governor Blanshard on Vancouver Island in 1859 and the founding of the first British colony on the Pacific coast of America were commemorated last night by the B.C. Historical Association at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Curtis Sampson, 1003 Newport Avenue.

Valuable souvenirs of the pioneer history of Victoria and the Island were presented to the Provincial Archives as a result of the celebration.

Ten speakers contributed to the evening's programme, among them being special guests who brought mementoes of Governor Blanshard to be given into the safe keeping of Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial archivist.

A gun brought here by Governor Blanshard from England was presented by B. A. McKelvie on behalf of C. H. French, who was unable to attend the meeting. The gun was acquired by Mr. French for the archives from the estate of the late H. Maynard.

PIECE OF CABLE

A piece of the New York-Alaskan Trans-Siberian telegraph line to London was presented by Miss C. I. Alexander. The wire was found embedded in the branch of a poplar tree at Blackwater in the Cariboo, and is a relic of the telegraph system which was begun in 1865 and abandoned in 1867 on the completion of the Atlantic cable.

Miss Alexander also gave to the archives two interesting Indian relics, a man's stone hammer, and a smaller hammer used by women.

The document signed by Governor Blanshard in 1859, appointing Thomas Blinckhorn magistrate for the district of Metchoosin was donated by Harry Ellis.

LETTERS LOANED

Two interesting letters were loaned to the archives for the evening, and read at the meeting. The first was from Rear-Admiral Sir Massie Blomfield, who, as a midshipman, had brought Governor Blanshard ashore when he first landed in Victoria. It is the property of Mrs. Henry Downey of Deep Cove, a niece of Admiral Blomfield. The second was written by Governor Blanshard to Dr. J. S. Helmecken, and was loaned by Mrs. Edith I. Higgins, Dr. Helmecken's daughter.

Hon. Dr. F. P. Tolmie, vice-president of the association, who took the chair in the absence of the president, Dr. J. S. Plasket, gave a brief biography of his father, Dr. William Fraser Tolmie.

HISTORY OF AGRICULTURE

Dr. Tolmie also told of the development of agriculture on Vancouver Island from the planting of the first garden at Nanika 150 years ago by James Strangé up to the present day. Dr. Lamb contributed a history and character study of Governor Blanshard, depicting him as a man of stronger character and firmer purpose than he was generally credited with having been. Dr. Lamb based his analysis on the letters of the governor, which showed him as a man of sound common sense.

Representatives of the B.C. Historical Association, who were present, were given by Mrs. Richard Wolfenden, who came to Victoria with her parents in 1851.

Other speakers were B. A. McKelvie, on Sir James Douglas; Mrs. Curtis Sampson on Dr. Helmecken, the first speaker of the first Legislature; Mrs. Fitzherbert Bullen on Edward E. Langford; C. C. Pemberton on Joseph William McKay, early Hudson's Bay Company officer; Harry Ella on Thomas Blinckhorn; and Mrs. Arthur Cree, of the Provincial Archives, on the early settlers.

The meeting has been called by the Kinsmen's Club of Victoria.

Cecil Luckhart, president of the Kinsmen's Club, will preside. Any organizations or persons interested in the subject who have not received a letter of invitation are invited to attend Friday's meeting.

ACCIDENTS MAKE KNOCKOUTS REAL

Two Movie Actors Nurse Sore Jawbones at Willows Studio When Fake Misfires; Camera Catches Both

The business of taking knockouts in movie fights is an old and learned one, with a complicated technique, but fans who go to see "Gunsmoke" and "Secret Patrol," the third and fourth pictures to be made in Victoria by Central Films Limited, will witness, though they may not know it, one real knockout in each picture.

In both cases it was the villain of the piece who came down with a genuine crash on the floor of the Willows studio, and who later meditatively nursed a sore jawbone. In both cases the knocker-outer was Charles Starrett, the hero, and both knockouts were completely accidental.

Yesterday morning J. P. McGowan, veteran Australian actor, who has a prominent part in "Secret Patrol," came down with a crash on the floor, and was out cold for a brief space, according to Kenneth J. Bishop, the producer.

The accident happened this way. In taking knockouts for the movies, the striker hits the victim on the jaw, and the blow glances up into the thin air. When seen on the screen, the fist has the appearance of neatly contacting the tip of the jaw. Yesterday Mr. Starrett's elbow caught on a door on the set half way through the blow, and his fist was deflected just far enough to catch Mr. McGowan neatly on the jaw bone.

Mr. Starrett has no light punch. The other accident happened several weeks ago. Arthur Kerr, Victoria man who is one of the several villains in "Gunsmoke," was the victim. Mr. Starrett's foot slipped as he came towards the villain. His fist passed Mr. Kerr's jaw, but his elbow did not, with the result that Mr. Kerr looped a loop which would have made a stunt fiercer, and landed flat on his back with a crash which almost dislodged the lights along the top of the set.

Luckily the two knockouts were during actual takes, and not in rehearsal, and the camera caught both.

G. B. Deville, director of C.F.C.T., said he knew nothing of the new company.

Silicosis Under Survey in B.C.

Measures to cope with silicosis, the disease feared by metalliferous miners, will be carefully studied by the provincial government this year.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, said today.

During the last year 1,500 British Columbia miners have been examined and tested for the disease, which is caused by mine dust getting in the lungs. These tests, together with a study of the men's working conditions, will form the basis for further survey this year to lay down ways and means of cutting down the ravages of silicosis.

Jessie Matthews
Will Star Here

Jessie Matthews will come to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow in "First a Girl," a Matthews picture means a dancing picture, for Jessie is the girl who does everything. She dances, she sings, she mimics and imitates, and she has charm, personality, magnetism, pliant beauty.

"First a Girl" has been given a lavish mounting by G.B. presenting six new big and whistle tunes by Maurice Sigler, Al Goodhart and Al Hoffman, composers of "I Saw Stars" and other tuneful hits, five spectacular ballet numbers and a mannequin parade that shows what the smartly dressed woman should wear.

Also to be shown in the second feature is Frank Buck's newest film of capturing wild animals and birds, "Fang and Claw."

IRISH COMEDY TO BE GIVEN

Fine Cast Will Present "The Far-off Hills" March 17 at the Royal

"The Far-off Hills," charming Irish comedy successfully presented during long runs at the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, as well as in London and New York, has been chosen for presentation at the Royal Victoria Theatre on March 17, under the direction of James McGrath, who is responsible for the selection of a very able cast from among the most popular of Victoria's amateurs.

Dan MacDonald will appear in the leading role as Patrick Clancy. Mr. MacDonald will be recalled as starring in the Little Theatre productions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "The Late Christopher Bean."

Mae Murray is taking the leading lady's part of Marion Clancy, daughter of Patrick, while Eileen Began and Katherine Roberts, as Dorothea and Anna, Clancy's daughters, with Mary Black, who before coming to Victoria was successfully interested in dramatic art in England, and Doris Allan are representing the other women characters of the north of Ireland family around which the comedy is written.

The men's roles will be taken by Jack Tregellas, well-known elocutionist; Al Dunnett, who has successfully appeared with the Young People's Dramatic Club and other organizations; George G. Gunn, who starred in the Stevenson radio plays; and Vaughan Barker, who has been associated with the Little Theatre productions.

Columbia Shows "East of Java"

"East of Java," the film in which Charles Bickford was nearly killed by a ferocious lion and was at death's door for days, is now at the Columbia Theatre.

Bickford plays Red Bowers, fugitive American gangster, who escapes to British East Africa on a wild animal cargo schooner. A typhoon sinks the ship and strands the crew on a desert island. The animals in the cargo also swim ashore. The lions kill the other beasts. They begin stalking the humans and throw the frightened survivors into an abyss of fear!

That is, all save the gangster, the leader of men, the red-headed "he-man," Charles Bickford, who battles as a wild man against the wild animals who seek his life and the lives of others.

Supporting Bickford in "East of Java" are Elizabeth Young, Frank Albertson, Leslie Fenton, Clarence Muse and others. George Melford directed from the story, "Tiger Island" by Gouverneur Morris.

Also being shown as the second feature is "The Nut Farm," starring Wallace Ford.

The first episode of Buck Jones's serial, "Roaring West," an additional attraction.

DEATH RATE OF VETERANS GROWS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 12.—Death among war veterans are rapidly increasing in number, Hon. C. O. Power, Minister of Pensions and National Health, told the House of Commons yesterday as it approved a grant of $50,000 to the Last Post Fund.

The minister said the fund was established in 1921 to provide burial for indigent ex-service men and the number of men buried with the fund's resources had steadily increased since then. In the fiscal year 1921-22 the number was eighty-three and in 1934-35 the number had risen to 608. Indications were it was still far from reaching its peak as the veterans were getting older.

JAN KUBELIK'S VIOLIN VALUABLE

Once Refused $250,000 For His "Emperor" Stradivarius

Valuations extending into the million dollar class have been placed on the admittedly priceless gifts of Jan Kubelik, the sensational Bohemian violinist who will play here on Monday.

He once had his hands insured for a great sum of money, Kubelik admits, but has long since ceased to continue premium of payments. "If anything should happen to incapacitate him as a performer, he would feel spiritually dead. He takes extraordinarily good care of himself and of his violin, which he keeps constantly at his side."

This violin, the famous "Emperor" Stradivarius, forms, with the "Messia" and "Alard" Stradivari, what is probably the most valuable trio of violins in the world. He has owned his "Strad" for more than twenty years, and once refused an offer of $250,000 to sell it. It is not insured.

The reason for not insuring so valuable a piece of property is that no amount of money could compensate him for its loss. It could not be of the slightest value to anyone who might be tempted to steal it, for the instrument is absolutely unique, and would be identified immediately if an attempt were made to sell it. No violin dealer or collector anywhere would dare to consider its purchase without the knowledge and consent of Kubelik himself.

This priceless "Strad" is the violin on which Kubelik will play here.

Fine Cast At The Playhouse

L. Barrymore, Jean Arthur, Chester Morris Play in "Public Hero Number 1"

Modern as today's newspaper headlines, and thrilling as their graphic accounts of the war of the United States government on organized crime, is "Public Hero Number 1," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing thriller of the work of the secret service, now playing at the Playhouse Theatre.

Tracing the pursuit of a notorious public enemy, the work of the operative who turns him up to justice, and the amazing ramifications of the Federal agencies pitted against the underworld, the story tells, in details actually taken from records, cases and newspapers, the ever more apparent fact that crime does not pay.

Lionel Barrymore plays the principal character role, in which he demonstrates an amazing facility for comedy along with drama as the bibulous Dr. Glass, physician-in-ordinary to the cohorts of the underworld.

Jean Arthur and Chester Morris are in the cast.

Also being shown in the second feature are George Burns and Gracie Allen in "Here Comes Cookie."

CAPITOL THEATRE

Eddie Cantor in "Strike Me Pink" is now at the Capitol Theatre. This lavish million-and-a-half-dollar production, featuring Ethel Merman, Sally Eilers, Parykarkas and William Frawley, and a glorious new array of Goldwyn girls, casts Eddie as a timid little college tailor whose secret passion for a glamorous night club singer, in the person of Miss Merman, moves him to take a correspondence course in personal magnetism.

Without the knowledge and consent of Kubelik himself.

This priceless "Strad" is the violin on which Kubelik will play here.

Seek New Life On Tropic Isle
San Francisco, March 12.—Seeking an "escape from mediocrity," two honeymooning couples from Michigan sailed for the South Seas yesterday to live in thatched huts and eat fish with the natives of a tropical isle.
The expedition is a sequel to the double wedding February 28 in Pontiac, Mich., of M. F. Walls, twenty-eight, Pontiac high school teacher, to Amber Penny, twenty-one, and Archie Hogan, twenty-three, to Marjorie Paddis, twenty-one.
Walls sketched what plans are made so far—to leave the liner Maunabo at Papeete, Tahiti, assemble supplies, get transportation to Moorea or some other island where there are few or no white, secure a hut or two, and live like the natives. Shirts and trunks will be their attire.

LLOYD'S MEDALS FOR B.C. SEAMEN

Capt. H. Lennard of Ms. Silverhazel Is Honored Posthumously

Vancouver, March 12.—Lloyd's silver medal for bravery in saving life at sea has been awarded posthumously to the late Capt. H. Lennard, master of the Ms. Silverhazel, and to three of the vessel's crew, H. S. Kissick, J. Harding and G. H. Matheson.
When the ship sank off a reef in the Philippine Islands, a few months ago, Kissick volunteered to swim from the wreck to rocks with a rope, but failed in the attempt and was drowned. Capt. Lennard then risked his life in a leap from the boom to the rocks. The captain succeeded in reaching the rocks, but was swept into the sea later and drowned.
Matheson and Harding, both British Columbia boys, receive their decorations for saving the life of a woman passenger.
The medals are being engraved and will be forwarded to the principals or heirs.
